REVOLTS IN INDIA.

The Natives Rise in Arms Against British Rule.

RUSSIA'S HAND PLAINLY SHOWN IN THE BULGARIAN PLOT.

London Police Keeping Watch of the Communists—Embargo on American Pork to Be Removed—A Vienna Scandal—Norwegian Disaffection—The Wheat Crop of Europe—Events Abroad.

CALCUTTA, April 6.—If present indications turn out to be correct, there is very serious trouble brewing in India for the British forces. Emboldened by the success of the Manipuris, who recently crushed the Ghoorka escort accompanying Chief Commissioner James W. Quinton in his efforts to settle the disputes which have occurred among the rival chieftains of Assam, the Miranzai, in the Kohat territory, a district of the Peshawer division of the Punjab, have risen in arms and are attacking the British troops along the whole length of their lines. It is also known that the Miranzai attack is being pushed so vigorously that strong reinforcements have been hurriedly dispatched to the front. Full details as to this new uprising are withheld by the British authorities here.

In addition to the Miranzai trouble, telegrams from Rangoon announce that the Hakuchins laid in ambush in a favorable locality awaiting the passage of a small British column on the way from one military post to another. When the British force was well inside the trap laid for it, the Hakuchins suddenly opened fire upon the soldiers, instantly killing Lieut. Forbes and five men. and stretching eleven others severely wounded upon the ground. This column, however returned the enemy's fire with such effect that the British force was enabled to retreat from the dangerous position into which it had been led and thus probably escaped total annihilation.

Lieut. Grant has sent a dispatch to the military authorities in this city in which he says that he believes himself to be the only European who escaped massacre in the recent fight at Manipur. The blunder of officials in sending so feeble a force to Assam is severely commented upon. Attention is also directed to the fact that the residency was supplied with Martini rifles, while Commissioner Quinton's escort was armed with Snider rifles.

RUSSIA'S HAND.

UNEARTHING THE PLOT AGAINST BULGARIA'S RULER—MAKING TROUBLE IN NORWAY.

BERLIN, April 6.—Although Germany permits her agent at Sofia to act also in behalf of the Russian Government, an arrangement established when Bismarck was Chancellor, the Kaiser will not allow the German agency to be the shield of any plots or conspiracies against Prince Ferdinand, as the prompt surrender of a Bulgarian in the employ of the Embassy has shown. The man is believed by the Bulgarian authorities to have been the leading spirit in Sofia of the conspiracy to murder Premier Stambuloff and which resulted in the killing of Minister Beltcheff. His surrender was of vital importance to Prince Ferdinand's Government and it was equally to the interests of Russia that he should be protected. The Russian Ambassador, Schouvaloff, had a personal interview with Caprivi on the subject, immediately after his return to Berlin, but Caprivi was firm. The arrest, it is believed, may lead to the uncovering of the whole conspiracy.

FOMENTING STRIFE IN NORWAY.

A Stockholm dispatch says that the Swedish Government is being strongly advised to put down Norwegian disaffection with a forcible hand. The Government's critics claim that Sweden has been too lenient and conciliatory in its treatment of Norway and has thereby encouraged the spirit of secession among a certain class who would sooner see Norway under the protection of Russia or Denmark than Sweden. Neither of these, however, are satisfied or would dare to declare themselves should the disaffection be dealt with. Russian emissaries are charged with fomenting trouble in Norway.

CROP FAILURE.

HIGH FIGURES FOR WHEAT PREDICTED—A GREAT SHORTAGE.

LONDON, April 6.—The Standard to-day publishes a long careful review of the agricultural outlook in wheat revives the hopes of the English farmer, the course of which it says that the steady rise in adding that wheat will probably reach the highest price in many years, the principal cause of the rise being the failure of foreign crops. The wheat crops of France and Russia, according to the Standard, are much below the average, and the same paper says the deficiency will be at least 20,000,000 quarters, adding: "It is expected that cold winds and frosts have almost destroyed the French crops. Germany, Holland and Belgium all furnish pessimist reports. In Roumania there is a decreased wheat area and in India there has been a bad wheat season.

The only exception is Hungary, where there are better prospects, but it is almost certain that the world's wheat consumption will exceed the production computed. Whatever the magnitude of the American crop may be, it will not be sufficient to cover the European deficit. thus compelling an extensive draft upon the reserves for the third year in succession."

The Standard in conclusion says: "The increased home consumption, the decreased wheat area, owing to the spread of population and recourse to scientific tillage in order to repair the waste of first settlers, thus increasing the cost of production, must inevitably remove the American farmers' formidable competition in European markets and allow the English farmers to look forward to a prosperous future.

LONDON COMMUNISTS.

WATCHED BY THE POLICE—PLOTTERS AGAINST CONTINENTAL GOVERNMENTS.

LONDON, April 6.—It is stated that owing to the ferocious utterances of the communists at the recent celebration in London of the twentieth anniversary of the Paris Commune, the police authorities have detailed detectives to watch the more rabid of the foreign anarchists, who now find refuge in England, and to ascertain whether there is really anything in their talk about starting a commune in London, going through a baptism of blood, etc. If there should prove to be anything in the baptism of blood business the foreign anarchists will probably be expelled from England, or locked up as suspicious persons. The prevalent belief is that the anarchists are harmless and really have no idea of killing the "beasts of prey," as they call the people who have property. London, however, is infested with them, as they flock here from all parts of the continent and use the city to hatch plots and conspiracies against continental governments. Hereafter they will be more closely watched.

WILL RETIRE FROM THE BENCH.

It is announced that Sir James Fitzjames Stephen, M. A., Justice of the Queen's Bench Division of High Court of Justice, will retire from the bench to-morrow. It was Justice Stephen before whom in 1889 was tried Mrs. Florence Elizabeth Maybrick, an American, charged with having poisoned her husband, James Maybrick, by administering arsenic to him. Justice Stephen has for some time past been in ill health, and his sickness is attributed to the strain and excitement to which he was subjected during the Maybrick trial.

Lately the delicate task of conveying to Justice Stephen a knowledge of the reports in circulation with regard to his mental condition was entrusted to Lord Chief Coleridge. Subsequently Justice Stephen selected as his medical adviser the distinguished physicion, Sir Andrew Clark.

BOUND FOR AMERICA.

There is no abatement in the tide of Irish emigration. During the past week six liners took 1,426 persons, mostly of the farming class, but including a few mechanics, from Connaught and Munster. Fully two-thirds of the passage money of these people was paid by their kinsmen in America. Some of steamers announced to sail have full lists of passengers, and everything indicates that for the next three months the number of emigrants will be fully equal to that for the corresponding period of 1890.

APOLOGIZED TO O'SHEA.

Capt. O'Shea in a letter acknowledged the receipt of an apology from the Rev. Father Furlong who had during the course of a political address erroneously stated that the household expenses of the O'Shea family were paid by Mr. Parnell, and says that Mrs. Wood, the aunt of Mrs. O'Shea, allowed her $15,000 annually for expenses.

Capt. O'Shea in conclusion also hints that the O'Shea-Parnell divorce case will probably be reopened and, that should this be done, further revelations damaging to Mr. Parnell will be made.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

M. VACARESCO'S RESIGNATION—A VIENNA SCANDAL—EVENTS ABROAD.

BUCHAREST, April 6.—The King of Roumania has refused to accept the resignation of M. Vacaresco as Minister of Roumania at the court of Vienna. The Minister tendered his resignation in order that he might be able to challenge the German Ambassador to Austria, Prince of Reuss, for an affront recently put upon M. Vacaresco's son by the wife of the German Ambassador. The affair took place at a reception at the German Embassy in Vienna. The Prince of Reuss subsequently declined to consider a challenge, on the ground that the Princess, his wife, was justified in what she did. After having thoroughly investigated all the circumstances of the quarrel, King Charles has determined to retain M. Vacaresco.

AMERICAN PORK.

BERLIN, April 6.—It is announced that the German Government has definitely resolved to withdraw the embargo placed upon American pork. It is added, however, that the official notice of this withdrawal will probably be delayed for some time in view of certain negotiations which are still going on between the German Government and the Government of the United States through the intermediary of the United States Minister here, the Hon. Wm. Walter Phelps.

TO ABANDON SOUTHWEST AFRICA.

LONDON, April 6.—Lord Salisbury has been notified by Chancellor Von Caprivi that Germany will abandon Southwest Africa unless the Anglo-German syndicate succeeds in procuring the capital which was agreed to be necessary. It is extremely doubtful whether this can be done.

DECIDED ON PAPER CURRENCY.

BUENOS AYRES, April 6.—President Pelligrini authorizes the statement that the government has decided on a paper currency issue on a metallic basis.

SUICIDES.

Overcome by His Wife's Insanity—Found in the River.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 6.—A special to the News from Milledgeville, Ga., says: Capt. George H. Hyam, an auctioneer of Atlanta, took his wife to the State Insane Asylum Saturday. That night, overcome by sorrow, he took morphine and died yesterday.

SWALLOWED ACONITE.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Under extreme depression caused by the grip James H. McDonald of 766 Ninth avenue committed suicide by taking aconite Saturday. He was 25 years old and lived with his father, brother and sisters in a flat at the above number. He contracted the grip about a week ago. Saturday morning he went to Vandenbenden & Eschman's drug store at Fifty-first street and Ninth avenue and tried to buy some prussic acid, saying he wished to kill a dog. He was refused, and then went to two other drug stores, purchasing small quantities of aconite at each. Returning home after 12 o'clock he swallowed both doses of aconite, his sister Anna seeing him do it. Dr. Byrnes of 345 West Fifty-first street was called in, but McDonald died at 5 o'clock. He had always been happy in his home life, and depression from grip is attributed as the sole cause for his suicide.

FOUND IN THE RIVER.

LIGONIER, Ind., April 6.—Yesterday morning as two boys were rowing a boat on the Elkhart River, just east of the city limits, they discovered the lifeless remains of a woman. The body was identified as that of Miss Sadie Haines, a beautiful young woman who had resided here for several years with her mother. The cause of her suicide is not known.

SHAVED THE BABY.

Children Play a Game of Barber With Terrible Results.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A Washington (N. J.) special says: Mrs. James McNerney of Karrsville left her three children, aged 9, 7 and 2, at home while she went to the store Saturday. When she returned she found the youngest lying on the floor covered with blood with a razor by her side. The child was very weak from the loss of blood though not dead. Her little face was one mass of cuts, and in the neck was a huge gash that came within a little of cutting the jugular vein.

The other children were finally discovered in a closet fast asleep, their little hands covered with blood. They explained to their mother that they had been playing barber and trying to shave the baby, who would not keep still and so was cut. They became frightened at the blood and hid themselves. The baby's wounds were dressed and she will recover, though she may have two or three bad scars on her.

G. A. R. Quarto-Centennial Celebration.

The members of Ransom Post, G. A. R., will assemble at Howard's Hall, Garrison avenue and Olive street, this evening to celebrate the quarto-centennial organizations of the Grand Army of the Republic. The meeting being an open one the families and friends of comrades are cordially invited; the exercises will be under the auspices of the Entertainment Committee and will be of a very interesting character. One feature will be the reading of a circular letter from the Commander-in-Chief; that will be read at 8:30 p. m. by every post in the country, the assemblage standing at attention as a token of respect to Comrade Stephenson, the founder of the order.

Ransom Woman's Relief Corps will give an entertainment and hop at Mahler's Hall to-morrow evening.

P. T. Barnum.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 6.—It is stated P. T. Barnum, the veteran showman, who has been ill for several days, has suffered a relapse and it is feared that he can live but a little while longer.

RIOTERS IN JAIL.

Arresting the Leaders of the Mob in the Coke Regions.

THE STRIKERS' FAMILIES TO BE EVICTED BY THE COMPANIES.

State Troops Still on Guard With Loaded Guns—Resuming Operations at the Mt. Pleasant Works—A Busy Day for the Sheriff and His Deputies—Labor News.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., April 6.—Quiet prevails in the coke region to-day. There has been actually no disturbance of any kind. The first real effort to start the works since the riot was made this morning. By actual count there were forty men at work, and it was evident that the majority of them were old employes, as they drew out good coke and did it in elegant shape. The men were not interfered with in any way while going to work. It seems that the strikers are too badly frightened to disturb any one at the present time. The condition of affairs is, of course, due to the soldiers, who have their guns loaded with ball cartridges and who seem to have no fear of putting a ball into a man who comes too close to the line. Sheriff Clawson came over from Greensburg this morning and was a very busy man. He has warrants for twenty-five of the rioters and will probably have warrants for about fifty more before the day is over. These warrants are all placed in the hands of the different constables and the deputies help in the arrests. This was a lively day for the the different township officers, as they were ordered to go ahead with the arrests immediately, so that the leaders of the rioters will be safely jailed before the soldiers leave. During the morning six men were arrested and there was considerable trouble in securing them. It has now become generally known among the strikers that warrants are out for the supposed leaders in the riot and they are keeping themselves hid as much as possible.

Supt. Morris Ramsay returned from Greensburg at 11 o'clock this morning and immediately went before the squire and swore out warrants for the arrest of fifteen additional rioters. These warrants were placed in the hands of the constables and it expected that before midnight at least thirty of the rioters will be in jail.

Sheriff Clawson had a long conference with Supt. Ramsay of the Morewood works and General Superintendent Lynch of the Frick interests this afternoon and it seemed to be of great importance, but none of the gentlemen would say much about it. The Sheriff stated that they had decided on a move that in his opinion would put at rest all fears of violence in the future.

It is probable the evictions of tenants from the company's houses will be commenced very soon, possibly this week. At any rate it will be done before the soldiers leave here, and it is believed that this was the cause of the conference between the Sheriff and the representative of the operators. Several car loads of provisions were received to-day and distributed among the strikers.

NEW YORK PAINTERS.

NEW YORK, April 6.—About 1,000 journeyman painters went on a strike here to-day to enforce the demand of eight hours a day and and $3.50 instead of $3 as heretofore for eight hours work. At the headquarters to-day it was reported that six additional firms had yielded to the demands of the men this morning and delegates were out visiting the employers still holding out. Out of eighty-five shops where the increase had been demanded all but twenty-eight have yielded.

COAL MEN IN COUNCIL.

QUESTIONS FOR PRODUCERS TO SETTLE—THE OPERATIVES' DEMANDS.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 6.—The bituminous coal producers of Ohio and Pennsylvania will meet in convention in this city to-morrow to discuss various questions affecting their business. The convention is expected to last four or five days, as matters of importance to all concerned are to be considered and acted upon. An effort to get the operators of Indiana and Illinois to act in harmony with those of Ohio and Pennsylvania will be made under an agreement similar to the agreement made three years ago by the operators of the four States. The operators of the four States have been united, but it is thought by some of the local producers that Indiana and Illinois will not be represented. In such a case it was intimated that the Ohio and Pennsylvania producers would form an alliance, offensive and defensive, against the Western producers and compel the railroads to assist them to reach the Chicago and Northwestern markets by making a freight rate that will put them on an equality with their Indiana and Illinois brothers.

A large number of delegates from the miners, including President Rae and the rest of the leaders, arrived this morning. They are determined to insist upon the demand of an eight-hour day, which will be the main question, though that of weighing coal before screening they will also stand out for. Concerning the readjustment of the machine mining question they will demand for the leaders a considerable increase, as they declare these men are paid much less in proportion than are the diggers. Wage questions the miners would not discuss further than that the plan outlined by the Columbus convention will be carried out and an increase of 10 per cent demanded.

The operators who have arrived are very guarded in their statements and would express no views as to what course they will follow concerning the proper demands of the miners. That they will not grant the eight-hour day seems to be the general impression among them. They probably will also oppose the demand that the coal be weighed before it is screened.

ORGANIZATION AT OSHKOSH.

OSHKOSH, Wis., April 6.—President Gompers of the Feberation of Labor met the delegates of several labor organizations here and spoke to them about organizing a trades assembly. After the speech an organization was affected and a charter will be applied for at once. His principal object in his trip is to get aid for the miners who are to strike for the eight-hour day May 1.

Will Wed To-Morrow.

Among the marriage licenses issued this morning was one to Rev. Edwin S. Wallace of Aberdeen, S.D., to Miss Nellie H. Ripley of 3884 Delmar avenue. The young lady is a daughter of Mr. L. B. Ripley, who is a member of the iron firm of Ripley & Bronson, who has become quite prominent recently by his candidacy on the Democratic ticket for the City Council. The wedding is to take place to-morrow, election day.

Another license issued this morning was for the marriage to-morrow of Dr. Geo. W. Cale, Jr., a promising young surgeon, to Miss Neosho Hobert of Vandeventer avenue.

Death of an Old-Time Jockey.

A telegram was received in the city to day from New York, announcing the death of Pat McGrath, a well-known turfman who formerly resided here. He is widely known among race horse owners, having been at one time one of the best jockeys in the country. For years he rode for Green Morris and later for Charles Reed of New York. He rode McWhirter when that horse made such fast time at Louisville years ago. McGrath also rode in a number of steeple chases and attained much prominence as a rider in races of that kind. Of late years he has been making books on races. When he was in St. Louis McGrath resided in the neighborhood of Twelfth and O'Fallon streets.

SHERMAN AND THE BEES.

Securing Honey Under Difficulties for the Commanding Officer.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Hon. Amos J. Cummings, says Col. Charles E. Belknap, was among the members representing the House of Representatives at the funeral of Gen. Sherman. He is a modest gentleman, thin and of medium stature. He is only 44 years old. Entering the army when a mere boy of 16 he won a Captain's commission within a year. He served in the Army of the Cumberland and became a great favorite with Gen. Sherman. On the way back to Washington after the Sherman funeral he told many a story of the dead General. Among other incidents recounted by Col. Belknap was one that occured in 1864 when Gen. Sherman was near Chattanooga. One day the General expressed a desire to have some honey. There were some hives on debatable ground between the two armies. They had escaped the hands of the foragers for some time. Turning to Belknap one day Uncle Billy said: "If you can find one convenient, Captain, I wish you would bring in a good bee gum."

That was enough for the Michigan Captain. In a jiffy he mounted his horse and was off. With a little squad of troopers he made a raid upon the gums. After selecting the most likely in appearance, he turned it over and clasped the half of a pup tent over the open end of it. A pup tent is what was termed a shelter-tent in the Army of the Potomac. After the gum was thus secured it was lifted up in front of Belknap, who was still astride his horse. He held it in place with his left arm and gave a free rein to his steed. Away he went at a full gallop, headed for Sherman's tent. The squad of troopers was at the heels of his horse. It was soon apparent that the Captain was in trouble. The pup tent did not remain in place. The motion of the horse loosened the cloth. It could not be held over the mouth of the gum. The bees popped out and began to hum in the ears of both charger and rider. They struck the Captain in the face, stung him in the back of the neck and pricked his hands, arms and legs with their tiny bayonets. They warmed the horse until he became almost frantic. He shot ahead like an arrow. His nose lay on a line with his ears and in his fury he switched the air with his tail. The captain clung to the gum. Never did he lose his presence of mind. He steered the wild horse straight for headquarters amid the derisive yells of the soldiers along the way. As he passed the open flap of Sherman's tent he threw the gum beneath a little table, shouting: "There's your d——d honey."

The Captain whirled away like the wind, leaving the General to fight it out with the bees left in the gum. Uncle Billy for once was surprised. Before he fairly comprehended the situation a bee jabbed him under the eye. Then he got it on the flange of the ear. It was too much. He opened up his brimstone battery in a way that delighted the guard at headquarters. More positive language was never heard. But he held the fort—held it until he felt the bees crawling up the legs of his trousers. Then he dashed from the tent, a high kicker. Nobody knew where he went, but he seemed to be very unhappy and was not again seen about headquarters for several hours.

STOPPED STRIKING.

An Accident to St. Boniface's Clock Sets the Neighbors Wondering.

Just as St. Boniface clock was ringing the midnight hour Saturday night, the heavy tapper struck the bell four times, then stopped suddenly; there was a crashing noise and then a heavy thud, as though something had fallen. The noise was so loud that residents in the neighborhood were awakened out of their slumber, thinking that the noise was due to an earthquake. The night patrolmen heard the crash, but were for the time being unable to locate where or what it was. During the remainder of the night the bell did not toll the hour. Upon investigating the matter it was found that the clock-weight, a ponderous, heavy, iron weight, was broken and that it fell through two floors, bursting the timbers into kindling wood and lodging in the cellar almost eighty feet below. Father Schindel had the weight restored to its proper place and the carpenters began work this morning repairing the damage. The clock was uninjured.

BUSINESS EMBARRASSMENT.

A Large Lumber Dealer Assigns—Bank Failure in London.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 6.—Edwin F. Berman, one of the leading lumber dealers in the State, made an assignment to-day. His liabilities are estimated at between $200,000 and $300,000. The assets consist chiefly of lumber and real estate in this city and are believed to be more than the debts.

LONDON BANKERS FAIL.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A private cablegram announces the failure of John Taylor & Co., bankers of London. The house is not a very large one.

INDICTED.

Charges of Criminal Libel Against a Preacher Editor.

DALLAS, Tex., April 6.—The Grand-jury has returned two indictments for criminal libel against Rev. Robert T. Hanks, a noted Baptist divine and editor of the Western Baptist. He is charged with libeling Rev. F. B. Hardy, L. R. Scroggs, S. R. Grant and A. M. Johnson, all prominent preachers of the same faith. The offense consists in having charged in his paper that the divines were "ash poppers," "paid scandal mongers of the Texas Baptist and Herald" and "notorious liars." The indictments are the outcome of a bitter newspaper war between the Western Baptist and the Texas Baptist and Herald. The accused parson declares that he will prove that the charges made are true when the cases go to trial. The legal contest bids fair to become a most sensational one. Rev. Hanks is one of the most eloquent preachers and forcible writers in Texas. He was raised in Alabama and located in Georgia, and has filled pulpits in Alabama, Georgia and Virginia.

Betting on To Morrow's Election.

A number of bets have been made on the election, both in and out of the pool-rooms, and to-morrow's contest will accordingly settle the disposition of considerable money, not to speak of hundreds of hats, suits of clothes and other articles of value. In the pool rooms to-day there were a number of bets booked. One of these was $1,000 to $800 that Cullinane of the Democratic ticket would lead every named candidate for the Council. Another was $500 even that Comfort would receive more votes than any candidate on the Independent Municipal ticket. Among the other bets were $100 even Grassmuck defeats any named Independent, $100 even Arnstein defeats Hammerstein, and $50 to $40 on the election of at least four of the six Democratic candidates.

PREPARING FOR '92.

Call for the Third Party Convention at Cincinnati.

THE SIGNATURES CONTAIN THE NAMES OF NO ALLIANCE LEADERS.

Organizations Entitled to Send Delegates to the Conference—Senator Gorman Denies a Current Rumor—What He Found in the South—Michigan Election—General Politics.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The re-issued call for the Cincinnati Third Party Convention has just been sent out by C. A. Power of Terre Haute, Ind., who signs himself as "acting for signers to call." The original call, prepared at Ocala and summoning a conference for Feb. 3, was signed, among others, by Jerry Simpson, Congressmen Featherstone of Arkansas and Davis and Clover of Kansas. There are a multitude of names appended to the call for the May 19 convention, but none of the Alliance leaders is among them. Two or three members of Congres, including Senator Peffer, the successor of Ingalls, sign it, while the others represent as varied political sentiments as they do forms of religious belief. This is the call under which the conference will be held, and it is loaded with a warning to "Pay no attention to reports that this conference has been abandoned or postponed; large delegations from a majority of the States now assured."

Whereas, Many efforts are being made to educate the people to break the chains of corporate monopoly enforced by twenty-five years of class legislation, and believing that a general conference should be held to arrange a union of all reformers who can federate upon a platform demanding relief on the issues of currency, land and transportation to arrange a systematic plan for the education of the industrial classes on these reform issues and to make such arrangements for the political conflict of 1892 as such conference may deem best; therefore,

We, as friend of such conference, hereby unite and call a general conference of reformers to meet at Cincinnati, O., on May 19, 1891, to adopt a platform and make such arrangement for the conflict of 1892 as the conference may deem fitting. Representation to be the National and State officers of each Alliance, assembly and association, ten delegates from each county and district organization of such bodies, and the editors and business managers of each reform paper belonging to the Reform Press Association.

By action of the State Executive Committee, People's party of Indiana, the following organizations are included in the call, and requested to send delegates to the conference: The American Federation of Labor, Trades Unions and Trades Assemblies, by their representatives,

The Federation of Railway Employes, by their representatives.

The Nationalists, by their representatives.

All organizations desiring representation at this conference should select delegates as soon as possible, and forward names and post-office address to C. A. Power, Terre Haute, Ind., for registry.

Streeter, candidate for President on Union Labor Ticket in 1888; A. R. Anderson, member of Congress, Sidney, Io.; James B. Weaver, ex-Member of Congress; Capt. C. A. Power, Terre Haute, Ind.; C. F. Snider, National Lecturer National Citizens' Industrial Alliance, Kingman, Kan.; Joel I. Hoyt, Jamestown, N. J.

GORMAN WON'T TALK POLITICS.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 6.—Senator Gorman returned from his Southern trip with his health wonderfully improved. He declared that what he had seen in the South convinced him that its future development is beyond calculation. Upon being asked as to the political bearing of his trip Senator Gorman promptly denied that it had any.

"Some dispatches quoted you as having made some comments on the sentiment of the Southern States for Mr. Cleveland or Mr. Hill?"

"Then," answered Mr. Gorman, "Such stories were made out of whole cloth. There was not a word of truth in them. I don't think that I can make a more emphatic denial than that."

Senator Gorman is still maintaining an absolute silence on political matters.

He positively declined to be led into any questions of national or local interest, available candidates or kindred subjects. He declared it too early to talk about Maryland politics, and very much too soon to talk of national affairs and the campaign in 1892. Returning to the subject of Southern progress, Mr. Gorman said: "What I was not prepared to find, perhaps, struck me with especial force. It was that people who belong down South—the natives—are manifesting an activity in the development of their section of the country that has been lost sight of by many in the North. Northern capital is doing a great deal, to be sure, but it is not doing everything. Southern brains and Southern money are playing an equal, indeed, I can safely say, a greater part, in the industrial progress." The Senator then discussed in detail the various evidences of progress he has seen in every town and hamlet. He concluded by saying: "What the South needs is simply capital and to be let alone."

MICHIGAN ELECTION.

DETROIT, Mich., April 6.—Michigan votes to-day for a Justice of the Supreme Court and two Regents of the State University. There are practically but two tickets in the field—the Republican, headed by Judge R. M. Montgomery, and the Democratic, headed by Justice John W. Champlin, who is nominated as his own successor.

"SEVEN BOOKS OF MOSES."

A Defendant's Nickname Gets an Inebriated Friend in Trouble.

Deputy Sheriff Culken was calling the docket in the Criminal Court this morning, and came to the case against Louis Gabriel, charged with criminal assault. No sooner had the defendant's name been called than Con Foley, a notorious character, who has served several terms in the Workhouse for vagrancy, rose from his seat in the rear of the court-room and called out in a stentorian voice:

"That ain't that man's name. His name is "Seven Books of Moses." Call him his right name."

Deputy Sheriff Tucker grabbed the disturber and placed him in the cage for contempt of court. Foley was under the influence of liquor at the time of the occurrence. Gabriel has been known as "Seven-Books-of-Moses" Gabriel ever since the beginning of his criminal career which dates back several years.

EAST ST. LOUIS.

The Self-Cremating Suicide Identified as Leopold Lehpert.

The mystery of the strange suicide of a young man at East Carondelet a week ago has been cleared up, and the reason found for what was one of the most remarkable cases of deliberate self-destruction on record. It is the old story of fickleness of femininity. The stranger, who has been identified as Leopold Lehpert of Evansville, Ind., committed suicide because of disappointment in love. A week ago to-day his dead body was found near the river bank at East Carondelet, lying across a burning pile of logs. The evidence of surroundings showed that suicide was the cause of death. To the close observer the same evidence made other things apparent.

BUILT HIS OWN PYRE.

The stranger had intended not only to end his career, but to destroy all traces of his identity. He had built the fire of logs and when the fuel became a burning mass he had stood erect facing it, thrust the barrel of a bulldog revolver between his teeth and pulled the trigger. He had arranged well his plans for self-incineration, and with the report of the revolver his lifeless body had fallen into the flames. The discovery of the body by persons who chanced to be passing was all that prevented its cremation, as the fire was burning brightly and the flesh was badly charred when the discovery was made. Coroner Woods held an inquest and had the body brought to East St. Louis, where it remained twenty-four hours without identification and was then buried. It is now known that the suicide was Leopold Lehpert of Evansville, Ind.

TRACED BY HIS CLOTHES.

The statement that the clothing on the body was made by an Evansville tailor was published in the POST-DISPATCH the day the inquest was held, and was brought to the notice of Peter Lehpert, a brother of the suicide. Peter Leppert came to East St. Louis yesterday and had the body exhumed, after having previously gained information that convinced him of the identity of the suicide. A gold watch found on the body was shown him and he identified it as his brother's. After seeing the watch and getting a description of the body he was perfectly satisfied, but as he wanted to have a look at the features of his dead brother, Coroner Woods had the body exhumed, when the identification was complete. Peter Leppert said his brother was 28 years old and unmarried.

DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE.

He had been an unsuccessful suitor for the hand of an Evansville young lady, who married another man, and this disappointment undoubtedly drove him to suicide. He left home on March 28, refusing to disclose his destination, but declaring to his friends that they would never see him again. Chief of Police Walsh had received numerous inquires concerning the sucide, notably one from J. H. Clark, Chief of Police at Nashville, Tenn., who was seeking information for a Mrs. Hemple of that city. Mrs. Hemple's husband disappeared recently and she feared he was the person who had committed suicide. Chief Walsh forwarded a description and this morning he received a letter in reply. Chief Clark says Mrs. Hemple is satisfied that the suicide was her husband, but when she reads the letter the police will forward to Nashvile to-day she will be informed of the identification of the body as that of Lehpert, and her fears for the safety of her husband will be at rest.

DEATH FROM LA GRIPPE.

James Walsh, a railroad man, died suddenly last night at his home on St. Clair avenue. An inquest was held this morning, at which it was ascertained that death had resulted from natural causes. Coroner Woods found that the man had been afflicted with a peculiar malady resembling the grip, but in some phases differing from that disease. This is the first fatality that might be attributed to la grippe which has occurred in East St. Louis this year.

Will Kane, the boy who was arrested at the Relay Depot Saturday night for trying to "lift" a valise, has been released, the owner of the property having left the city without preferring a charge against him. The boy was not hurt by the bullet fired from the revolver of Officer Ryan, who fired on Kane when he attempted to run away. The ball penetrated his shoe, but only grazed his foot.

Belleville.

The Mayoralty contest in Belleville appears to have simmered down to a contest between Capt. William White and ex-Circuit Clerk F. E. Scheel. There are two other candidates, H. G. Weber and Gen. W. H. Powell, but the one is handicapped by his reputation for bossism and office seeking, while the other will find his nail mill record too heavy a load to carry.

The Circuit Court reconvened this morning with Judge Snyder on the bench. Only a small amount of business remains to be done for the present term, and an adjournment may be expected soon.

The Belleville Academy, the new literary society, will meet Wednesday evening at the Court-house to perfect organization.

A marriage license was issued to-day to Martin Bleisch and Carrie T. Wangler of Belleville.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the City Council will be held this evening.

BATTLE WITH A MANIAC.

The Frenzy of a Patient Confined in a Chicago Hospital.

CHICAGO, April 6.—James Kinierle, one of the attendants at the Detention Hospital, had a terrific fight with a maniac named George Lauframe. Saturday morning Lauframe had tried to kill his wife with a hatchet and she ran screaming into the street. It required three policemen to overpower him. About 8 o'clock attendant Kinierle heard a noise in Lauframe's cell. Looking in, he saw that the patient had by main force broken the "muff" and his hands were free. Kinierle opened the door quickly and sprang inside. He grappled with the insane man, but soon found that he was no match for him. The maniac clasped his arms around the keeper's body and lifting him high above his head dashed him to the floor. Kinierle's agility saved him from being crushed to death. Help soon arrived and bound the maniac.

NINE LIVES LOST.

Two Families Perish in Flames at Rochester, Pa.

A ROW OF TENEMENT HOUSES FORMED THE DEATH TRAP.

Charred Remains of Unfortunates Found in the Ruins—A Young Girl's Heroic Leap From a Window—Sickening Scenes During the Incineration—Fires and Casualties Elsewhere.

ROCHESTER, Pa., April 6.—The most frightful calamity that has ever befallen this place occurred early this morning, as a result of which nine lives were lost. Between the Rose Building, corner of Brighton and New York streets, and the railroad crossing, were a row of cheap frame tenement houses, the first floors of which were occupied as business houses. Shortly after midnight fire was discovered in the lower building and an alarm was given. The fire gradually spread to the second and third houses, and in a few minutes all were in flames. But few of the citizens were on the scene until the fire was well under headway, and efforts were made to save the property, but with poor effect, as the buildings, being of highly inflammable material, burned rapidly.

A LEAP FOR LIFE.

In the midst of the hottest part of the fire an Italian girl about 16 years of age appeared at the window of one of the burning buildings and leaped to the ground, two of the firemen catching her before she struck the ground. Between her sobs she stated that all her father's family were yet in the burning house, but as the flames now had full control of the building it was impossible to save them, and seven persons perished in the Italian family. The rooms occupied by the Italians were in the center of the building, and when it was found that lives had been lost a careful inquiry was made regarding the occupants of the first building to take fire. It was inhabited by a shoemaker named Edward J. Keene, with a family consisting of a wife and three children. None of the family could be found for a time, but during the height of the excitement Mrs. Keene, with two of her children, arrived from Pittsburg on train No. 1. It was then feared that Mr. Keene and his eldest son, Walter, aged 8 years, were lost. Brave men at once went to work among the burning timbers and soon discovered the charred remains of father and son close together, but burned to an unrecognizable mass. The corpses, with those of the Italians that have been recovered, are lying in a stall at Hayes' livery stable.

THE LIST OF DEAD.

Following is the list of names of those who perished in the flames:

Edward J. Keene, 50 years.

Keene's son, Walter, 9 years.

Buttelto Ceaplo, 45 years; Ceaplo's wife, Annie, 35 years; John Ceaplo, 11 years; Rosa Ceaplo, 8 years; Victoria Ceaplo, a brother.

Joe Romio, age unknown.

The nine bodies are so badly burned that they are unrecognizable. There has also been $500 in gold found among the ruins which belonged to the Italians. The Italian girl, the only one saved, says there is still $800 in the ashes.

Thomas McManus, a railroad brakeman, was the first to discover the fire, which was well under way at the time. He sounded the alarm of fire, which aroused the neighbors. He worked at the fire until his train departed. Mr. H. C. Frick, Jr., Wm. McCutcheon, C. Frick and Wm. Ried were the first ones on the scene after the alarm was given and did noble work with many others to check the flames.

The scene of the Italian father lying upon his bed, surrounded by flames, until the bed dropped through the floor was sickening in the extreme. The frightened man seemed to cling tightly to his bed and made but a slight struggle.

MARY TICKIO'S STORY.

Mary Tickio, who escaped by jumping from the second story, although not seriously injured, is prostrated. She talks incoherently, and seems to remember but little of the frightful struggles of her kinsmen. She says that when she awoke the fire was burning below, and their rooms were filled with smoke. She slept in the back room, her mother and the children in the middle room, and her father and his brother Victoria Tickio and Josef Raem, both visitors, occupied the front room. Mary tried to arouse her people, but they were already asphyxated. She says the fire burned her and she lead to jump for her life from a window. Each body is burned beyond recognition. The sight of the row of blackened bodies is horrible. Annie, the baby, had one foot and an arm burned completely off. The others are all fearfully mutilated. There is no definite evidence as to how the fire started, but it is the opinion of the authorities, and it seems to be the correct one, that a lamp left burning by Mr. Keen in his kitchen exploded and fired the house. There appears to be no indication of incendiaries.

The total loss is $6,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

BURNED TO DEATH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—Francis Lewis, an old colored woman who was cook in a restaurant, was burned to death early this morning at her home. The old woman had made a bed on some chairs near the stove and her screams aroused the police, who broke the door in to find the woman a mass of flames and charred flesh. She died almost instantly. It is thought that a spark from the stove set fire to her clothing.

TELEPHONE EXCHANGE ON FIRE.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 6.—The central office of the Telephone Exchange is in flames, and at this hour, 1:30 p. m., the flames are gaining rapid headway in the building. The thousands of wires seriously impede the progress of the firemen reaching the burning building.

The fire was got under control at 2 o'clock. The two upper stories of the building were badly damaged, but the flames did not extend further. The loss to the telephone company will amount to considerable.

THE BATTERED GALENA.

BOSTON, Mass., April 6.—The United States steamer Galena in tow arrived in the harbor this morning; also lighter Myrtle, having on board the boats and ammunition taken from the Galena. The Galena presents a battered appearance; her mainmast is gone, her sides patched and she is badly hogged. It is thought she can be repaired inside of the 20 per cent limit, however.

Found Him Dead by Her Side.

At 1:40 o'clock this morning Mrs. William Nevettet awoke at her home, 15 South Leonard avenue, to find her husband dead in the bed at her side. The body was yet warm, showing that death had claimed him only a short time before. Senile debility was undoubtedly the cause of his demise, as the deceased was more than 80 years old. Deputy Coroner Meade will hold an inquest in the case this afternoon.

POND'S

FOR CATARRH

HAT THE DOCTOR SAYS:

A WELL-KNOWN NEW YORK PHYCIAN GIVES THIS ADVICE IN CASES F CATARRH:

"The mucous membrane being relaxed an astringent is required to restore it to a healthy condition. POND'S EXTRACT is such an astringent. Used as a gargle, wash, or injection it is exceedingly beneficial."

HAT THE PATIENT SAYS:

"I have been a constant sufferer for years (from about Nov. 1st until the following June) from severe colds in my head and throat; in fact, the whole mucous tissue from the nose, down to and including the bronchial tubes, were more or less affected. It was fast developing into CHRONIC CATARRH. I had tried most known remedies, and was finally persuaded last March to use POND'S EXTRACT. I snuffed it up my nose and inhaled it; gargled my throat with it and swallowed it. It relieved me wonderfully and has effected almost a radical cure. I have used it for burns, bruises; and sprains, and believe it invaluable in such cases. I believe also that no family should be without it in the house, feeling as I do that it comprises a whole Pharmacopœia within itself."

CANADIAN SCHOOLS.

Shall Religious Instruction in Them Be Prohibited?

A NEW ISSUE SUDDENLY ARISES IN DOMINION POLITICS.

Strong Fight Made Upon the Law Passed by the Manitoba Legislature—How Premier Macdonald Will Act in the Dilemma—A New Phase of the Fisheries Question.

QUEBEC, April 6.—Canada may now have on her hands a big religious fight as well as a political one, over the Manitoba school act. Cardinal Taschereau and the entire Roman Catholic hierarchy have entered upon a war against it, and in all their churches yesterday a joint mandament signed by them was read.

In the Basilica Cardinal Taschereau preached strongly in its support, urging the faithful to declare against the act and demand its disavowal at Ottawa. The act in question prohibits religious instruction in public schools in Manitoba, making them all non-sectarian, as in the United States, and was passed by the Legislature of Manitoba. The hierarchy insist that the Government of Canada must veto the act, and the result of the mandament must be to form Canadian Catholics into an almost compact body in support of this course.

Catholic members of the new parliament will be largely influenced by the mandament and in view of the reduced majority for the Government at Ottawa the situation in which Sir John will find himself can't fail to be critical for it will become a question of expediency and while the people of Manitoba claim the right to manage their own affairs and the Protestant electors as a rule throughout Canada take the same stand, and while the Roman Catholic Church hold on the other hand that the act is a violation of vested and sacred rights, Sir John will certainly count noses and decide upon the course that will expose him to the least possible loss of support.

Only a few weeks remain of the period within which the act may be disallowed at Ottawa. Sir John's friends here think he may evade the question by referring the constitutionality of the act to the Supreme Court.

GOING THE WRONG WAY.

OTTAWA, April 6.—The raid of agents of the Dominion Government upon Dakota in the hope of inducing settlers to emigrate from that State to the Canadian Northwest has turned out a grand fizzle. The agents in question have reported to Ottawa that the scheme will have to be abandoned. From latest accounts the exodus is the other way. Dakota becoming populated at the expense of the Canadian Northwest.

The Dominion Government have had twenty-five men operating in Dakota for the past few weeks, who now report that they have been sent on a fruitless mission.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

SALE OF BAIT PROHIBITED BY THE NEWFOUNDLAND GOVERNMENT.

TORONTO, Ontario, April 6.—The Empire, the Government organ, says: "It is reported that the harsh treatment of Canadian fishing vessels by the Newfoundland authorities is altogether out of keeping with the solemn pledges of the Government of the sister colony made over three years ago. When in 1887, the Newfoundland Legislature passed the bait act with the design of preventing foreign fishing vessels from purchasing bait in Newfoundland ports the measure was reserved for the royal assent. The Canadian Government represented in the strongest manner possible the grave injustice which that act would do to British and Canadian Fishermen who had heretofore enjoyed the privilege in common with the fishermen of the United States of purchasing bait in Newfoundland ports and who enjoyed that privilege when it was refused to United States fishermen under the terms of the convention of 1818. No colony in British North America had ever attempted to discriminate against the fisherman of the sister colonies. When Canada, therefore, intervened between the bait bill and the royal assent Her Majesty did not give her assent until the Attorney-General of Newfoundland and the Newfoundland Government had pledged themselves in the most emphatic manner possible, both to the Canadian Government and to the colonial office, that the act, if allowed, would not be enforced against British or Canadian fishermen.

The Newfoundland Government attempted to negotiate a treaty with the United States in the fall of last year, by which the Island Government bound themselves to low duties on flour, beef, pork, bacon and agricultural implements coming from the United States, and to give United States fishing vessels right to all their port privileges, including the purchases of bait free of duty or a fee of any kind. Canada prominently intervened and pointed to the Imperial Government that this discrimination proposed by a British colony in favor of a foreign nation against another British Colony was fraught with grave consequences to the integrity of the British Empire in North America and involved the violation of a principle sacredly observed between all the colonies and Great Britain, viz: That no colony should discriminate against the mother country.

Hence Her Majesty's Government was induced to refuse sanction to this treaty.

Apparently exasperated by Canada's representations, Newfoundland intends not only to continue to violate the pledge given to the Government of Canada, but to grant privileges to American fishermen which are denied to those of the Dominion, so that in effect while the United States tariff imposes heavy duties upon the fish that Canada or Newfoundland fishermen may send to the United States from the banks, Newfoundland intends to add to this great handicap against her own fishermen and those of Canada the further concession of her ports as a base of operation of American fishermen and which are to be denied to Canadian fishermen despite the convention of 1818.

The Canadian Government is of the opinion that the British Parliament under such circumstances should promptly repeal the bait act; its allowance in the first instance stated above having been secured only upon express stipulation that it was not to apply to Canadian fishermen, and Newfoundland having been guilty of an unparalleled breach of faith both with the Imperial and the Canadian Governments.

BECOMING COMPLICATED.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., April, 6.—The fishery question between the United States and Canadian fishers is becoming more complicated and the action of Capt. Solomon Jacobs, a few days ago, tends to increase the bitterness of feeling. While catching herring in Fortune Bay, Newfoundland, he was interrupted by Commodore Sullivan of the British cutter Fiona and was told he would have to give bond for $200 that he would land the herring caught in the United States. He said he could not give bond until he arrived at St. Jaques and a British officer was sent with him. Instead of going to St. Jacques he dropped the officer at St. Pierre and came home. Vessel owners and fishermen regret this act, and say it is in violation of the law and a breach of good faith. United States fishermen have enjoyed more privileges than any others from Newfoundland, and it is feared this act will cause the withdrawal of these privileges and lead to serious trouble.

A DAY'S CRIMES.

Attacked by a Foot-Pad—Murdered by Tramps—Out of Prison.

KANSAS CITY, MO., April 6.—Last night as Allen H. Rounoir, 23 years of age, was returning from church in company with two young ladies, he was attacked and assaulted by a colored foot-pad, near the corner of Troost avenue and Twenty-ninth street. He was struck several heavy blows on the head by a sand-bag and rendered unconscious. The ruffian seized one of the young ladies, took her pocket-book and jewelry and made his escape. Runoir's wounds are very serious and probably fatal.

MURDERED BY TRAMPS.

GOSHEN, Ind., April 6.—Alexander Snyder was murdered Saturday night by two tramps. He was a wealthy German, who lived meanly and was supposed to have a great deal of money in the house. They entered to steal and awakened the old man. One of them struck him with a club. When he was found in the morning the two tramps were looked for and they were found with articles in their possession which had belonged to Snyder. One of them immediately confessed and said his companion had struck the blow.

SCALPERS HELD FOR FORGERY.

DENVER, Colo., April 5.—Ticket scalpers named Jackels, Peebles, Kimball, Mills and Whitehead were arrested on a charge of forgery and released on a nominal bond to appear for a preliminary examination. It seems that the railroads have been bothered considerably by the changing of tickets. Tickets issued for a fare from Denver to Boulder were changed so as to be good from Denver to Ogden. One of these tickets was presented by a Mr. Hoshow and when the conductor took it up Hoshow returned to Denver and tried to get satisfaction out of the railroad company. He was not successful, but he got the backing of the railroad company when he proposed to prosecute the scalper who sold him the ticket. Hoshow swore out the warrants.

A YOUTHFUL ROBBER.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 6.—For the past four days detectives have been hard at work on a post-office robbery, and as a result have traced the theft up to a boy not over 10 years of age. Some time ago the Atlanta National Bank began missing letters containing checks and orders. Other banks were notified and payment was ordered stopped on all the missing paper. Several days since the boy presented one of the checks at the office of the American Trust Co. It was for $200, and payment was of course refused. An attache of the bank stepped back to telephone the police, but the boy suspecting something wrong turned and ran away. The detectives got a description of the lad and arrested him at his home, where he had fifty-three checks hidden. He confessed all, and explained that he stole the letters from the bank's box at the Post-office. The lock was not well secured, and by shaking the box the boy was able to open the door. The checks amounted to $15,000 in all. The police have withheld the boy's name and there may be no prosecution.

CASHIER GADSDEN'S DOWNFALL.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 6.—Cashier Gadsden's downfall has been a rapid one. Every cent of the $100,000 he embezzled from the bank has been taken since the 1st of January. It was all lost in speculation in cotton. The bank's depositors are scared, but the bank's loss is not over $70,000, as his bond was for $30,000 and the surplus is large.

OUT OF PRISON.

COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—The coolest and most successful escape ever made from the penitentiary was that of George Elwood yesterday. Elwood was serving an eight years' term for burglary and larceny and was considered an ugly customer. At 11 o'clock yesterday, while the prisoners were attending mass, Elwood played sick and asked permission to go into the hospital and lie down. The permission was granted and Elwood took advantage of the situation. He climbed out of the window, over the fire escape to the roof and down through the ventilator into the Warden's room, where he changed his prison garb for one of the Warden's best suits and then walked out of the prison unobstructed. He has not yet been recaptured.

CRIMINAL NEWS IN BRIEF.

Mrs. Jessie Gallio and Mrs. Congello Vallome, both Italian women living in Chicago, settled an old feud last night. Mrs. Gallio sent a friendly note to Mrs. Vallome and when the latter called Mrs. Gallio stabbed her fourteen times with a stiletto.

W. W. Patterson, John Woods and Grant Schouf were arrested at Miner, Tazewell County, Ill., for counterfeiting nickels. A half bushel of bogus coin and the tools for making them were found in their posession.

At Denver, Colo., Thos. Heffernan was on trial for killing a Chinaman named Jim Lay. When the jury, after being out twelve hours, brought in a verdict of guilty, he took a dose of arsenic with the intention of killing himself. He was pumped out and is now in the hospital.

At a negro dance held at Magnolia, Miss., the dancers got into a fight. When it was over six negroes had been severely cut with knives and razors.

WONDERS OF MORMONISM.

Miracles Wrought by the Elders Through Divine Aid.

SALT LAKE, April 6.—In the Mormon Conference yesterday President Woodruff told of communing with God and of miracles wrought by the elders through the powers of God. They laid hands on the sick and they have got well; they have touched the lame and they walked; they have put clay on the eyes of the blind and they opened. Apostle Richards followed on the wonders of the gospel and the blessing of the saints. Moses Thatcher, apostle, spoke on the blessings of the Constitution, which was a revealed document and protected every one in the privilege of worshiping God according to the dictates of his conscience. In the afternoon President Woodruff opened by scolding the women who brought squalling babies to the conference. George Q. Cannon spoke on the building of temples and the observance of ordinances and covenants. He urged marriage on the young people, altogether too many of whom, he said, were long single. Apostle Heber J. Grant dilated on the truth of the everlasting Gospel, and adjournment was had till to-morrow.

IN A SOLID LINE.

The Crush for Government Lands in Wisconsin.

FIVE HUNDRED MEN IN RANKS AT ASHLAND.

Through Snow and Rain They Hold Their Places and Refuse to Be Driven From Their Posts—The Prize in Store for the Man Who Heads the List of "Filers"—Talk of Official Interference.

ASHLAND, Wis., April 6.—The Ashland Land Office is besieged. Although the 100,000 acres of pine land will not be thrown open for entry until April 17, 300 hours from now, there are fully 500 hardy woodsmen standing one behind the other in a line that extends half way around the block. The first man in the line, Ed Mercer, has been at the Receiver's window since last Friday and he promises to beat the Detroit men, who are trying to see who can keep awake the longest. There is a prize in store for Mercer if he holds out, and he probably will, for those in the line immediately behind him have made an agreement to stand by each other against those further in the rear. In this way they can steal a nap now and then. Mercer's prize is a tract of 160 acres of towering pine trees that will bring him, as they stand, the snug sum of $10,000. The others close behind him have their selections made and will get land and timber worth nearly as much. The men tried to get in line as long ago as last Thursday, but were driven off by Chief Hayes and his officers, but the crowd in town multiplied wonderfully by Friday night and it was found to be useless to try to keep the land-seekers back. The most of them were armed and were defiant when the officers attacked them for the last time on Friday. The "filers" won the day and now the police are devoting their energies to keeping order. It seems at times as if all efforts to preserve the peace are useless. There is a good deal of crowding and many disputes and quarrels about each man's place in the line. During these quarrels the "filers" became so excited that a row involving the whole crowd becomes imminent at any moment and order is only restored after great efforts.

SNOW-CLAD RANKS.

All during the first night small crowds of men who had heard of the line being formed dropped into places of advantage and hastily dispatched messengers to their friends and to their homes for proper clothing to protect themselves from the terrible storm of sleet and snow. The snow continued to fall all night and soon the packed mass of humanity was covered from head to foot. The crowd was a good-natured one and many were the jokes that passed along the line. There is much dissatisfaction because several city officials hold good positions in the line, as they were among the first to object to the forming of the line until next Tuesday. Threats to eject them from their places are made. The rest of the men in line were huddled together like a flock of sheep and until yesterday morning stood shivering from the damp.

The first twenty men in line are from the city and this is the cause of much discontent among those who were not allowed to remain in the first line that was made and afterward broken up. Mercer was a policeman and he had a hand in driving the first filers away from the office. Saturday he delivered his star to the Chief upon the demand of Mayor Wilmarty. Sergt. Peterson, although not in the line, has a substitute there very close to the window. There is loud talk among some of the squatters in the rear of making a rush to dislodge Mercer and the others because, as the less fortunate ones claim, they are not entitled to good positions. John Coyne claims to have been forced out of the line by Chief of Police Hayes, Sergt. Peterson and Officer Kennedy, and he has procured warrants for their arrest. The exposure that the men must undergo will surely result in sickness. Already many of them have coughs and show signs of pneumonia, but the craze is too strong to frighten them away and no argument of physicians has any effect. The prospect of getting something for nothing is too bright for men who have never had at best more than a few dollars at a time.

"I am sure that many of the foolish fellows will either die in their places or contract sickness that will terminate in death," said Dr. Harrison yesterday.

There was less suffering among the men last night. The weather yesterday was warm and the damp clothing of the determined men sent up a little cloud of steam. Peddlers of coffee, sandwiches and bottled beer are engaged in a land business also.

DROPPED OUT OF THE LINE.

Three men who had pretty good places dropped out of the line at daybreak yesterday, and from the appearance of several others they will not be able to hold out even if the weather could remain warm. The signal office predicts another snow storm and preparations are being made for it. Some of the men are sitting in chairs their friends have brought, and umbrellas, rubber coats and other things for protection against the storm which they all think is coming, are piled up beside each man's place. The whole city seemed to have turned out yesterday to see the "filers." Some of the leading citizens advocate the breaking of the line and keeping the men away from the office for at least three days longer and the Mayor has been asked to take steps in that direction, but he seems inclined to let matters rest as they are and thus avoid a riot, which would surely result if the officers should attempt to disperse the men. Gov. Peck has been asked to have the local company of militia under orders to do active duty in case of trouble, but he has not yet signified his intentions of taking a hand in the matter. Receiver Heldlauff and Register Carrington have been appealed to to order the men away, but they say they have no authority in the premises and would do nothing of the kind even if they had unless ordered by the authorities at Washington.

Died of Lockjaw.

Thomas Dougherty, a negro, died Saturday morning on board the steamer City of New Orleans, at the foot of Vine street. The deceased had been suffering with an injury to the foot and lockjaw is supposed to have caused his death. The body will be removed to the Morgue, where Dr. Brennan will this afternoon make a post-mortem examination. The inquest will be held to-morrow morning.

TRADE RELATIONS.

The Washington Conference Indefinitely Postponed.

PRESIDENT HARRISON'S TOUR INTERFERES WITH NEGOTIATIONS.

He Desires to Be Present at the Interview With Blaine—The Sentiment Among Manufacturers and Farmers on the Other Side of the Line—Washington Topics.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—Sir Charles Tupper, Sir John S. D. Thompson, Canadian Minister of Justice, and Hon. G. E. Foster, Minister of Finance, who arrived here at a late hour last night from Ottawa, accompanied by Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, will have an interview with Secretary Blaine to-day and lay before him the proposals of the Canadian Government for reciprocal trade relations. The conferences will be secret and are preliminary to the appointment of commissioners by both the United States and Great Britain to formally negotiate.

Accompanied by Sir Julian Pauncefote the Canadians called upon Secretary Blaine as his home just before noon. Their stay lasted but a few minutes and returning to their hotel they announced that they were about to leave Washington in a few hours. As arrangements had been made by members of the party that indicated a purpose to stay in Washington at least a week, the news of the intended sudden departure caused some surprise.

HARRISON WANTS TO BE IN IT.

This was set at rest, however, by a statement from Sir Charles Tupper. Sir Charles said he had visited Secretary Blaine last Thursday and was courteously received. He explained the desire of the Canadian Government to lay the foundation for negotiations that should broaden the trade relations between the Dominion and the United States. Secretary Blaine met the proposal favorably and Sir Charles returned to Ottawa to report the result to his Government and secure the presence in Washington to-day of Mr. Foster, Minister of Marine, and Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, Secretary Blaine having arranged to receive them. Subsequently Secretary Blaine learned that the President desired to be present when the negotiations were undertaken and his projected Southern and Western trip would not admit of that if the negotiations proceeded at once. Accordingly Secretary Blaine informed Sir Julian Pauncefote that a postponement would be desirable and the Minister so telegraphed Sir Charles Tupper at Ottawa. But the party had started for Washington before the telegram was received and was not informed of the change of programme until this morning. Messrs. Foster and Thompson will leave Washington at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Ottawa, and Sir Charles will go straight to London. He says that Sir Julian Pauncefote will notify the party when to return to Washington which will be as soon as the President can conveniently give his attention to the negotiations. After the interview with Secretary Blaine this morning the party called at the White House and left their cards for the President.

SENTIMENT IN CANADA.

A telegram from Ottawa says: Sir Charles Tupper claims that his mission will be successful. When Sir Charles arrived home on last Saturday he found the Cabinet in session when he reached this city. Sir John Macdonald numbers among his colleagues several politicians who are averse to any policy except reciprocity in natural products. To these champions of restriction Sir Charles Tupper intimated that no arrangement could could be affected unless Canada admitted certain American manufactured articles free of duty in return for access to the United States markets.

Although the Government will not abandon protection as a policy, it will beyond doubt agree to place certain manufactured articles on the free list. The subject is one of considerable difficulty. No treaty confined to raw products, judging from Mr. Blaine's own statement, would be acceptible to the United States, and it is uncertain how far the Canadian Government will satisfy the United States in admitting manufactures free of duty. If the manufactures admitted are such as are now protected in Canada, loud objections from the special interest concerned will go up. The specialization of the particular products, though the best thing in the end, would give established American manufacturers the advantage in the meantime, but behind the fact that they have got the start in the race something would depend upon the special adaptation of either country for the production of particular things. In manufactures of wood Canada ought to be at no disadvantage after specialization had been effected. In some branches of furniture Dominion manufacturers were pressed hard by outside competition before they began to specialize, and one of the largest concerns in the country ceased to be profitable in spite of the high duty. Ontario has to import her motive power and the Dominion commits the folly of taxing it. Reciprocity would give Canada free fuel.

FEAR OF COMPETITION.

Manufacturers, as a rule, are afraid of American competition on equal terms, but some are prepared to accept it in exchange for the choice of an extended market. The greatest objection is already coming from manufacturers of agricultural implements and from the sugar refiners. It is certain that Sir Charles Tupper will make almost any sacrifice of established industries before returning home empty handed, as the farmers from one end of Canada to the other are clamoring for closer trade relations with the United States.

The Patrons of Industry is becoming a power in the land. It has adopted unrestricted reciprocity as its platform. The Canadian organization has severed its connection with that of the United States and the work of organization is being rapidly extended in Ontario. The objects of the organization are mutual protection, reduced prices and unrestricted reciprocity. Farmers, mechanics and laborers are all eligible for membership, but doctors, lawyers, merchants and bankers are all categorically ruled out as non-producers. Sir Charles Tupper feels the strength of this growing power.

CAPITAL TOPICS.

PROPOSED CHANGE IN IMMIGRATION LAWS—OUR CRUISERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—The Post this morning says editorially that "America for Americans!" will probably be one of the rallying cries of the next campaign and that the national platforms next year will favor restriction laws. But for the aggressiveness of the Italians, the Post says, the issue would not have been so well defined. As it is the possibility of war has quickened the public pulse, and the enormous influx of foreigners, aggregating a million a year, has caused considerable discussion. The Post concludes by saying that it is the universal belief that the next Congress will undertake to make some radical changes in the immigration laws.

NOT GOING TO CHILI.

A dispatch from Denver last night stated that orders had been received from Admiral Brown at San Francisco, directing that the cruiser San Francisco sail on Wednesday for Chili and the cruiser Charleston return to Honolulu at once to guard American interests. Secretary Tracy when shown the dispatch said that it was entirely erroneous; that no such orders had been given.

THE MANNING CASE.

The Supreme Court of the United States, in an opinion by Justice Harlan, affirmed the judgment of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin in the case of Patrick Manning vs. George Weeks, Warden of the State Prison.

Manning was convicted in the court for the District of Ashland, Wis., of manslaughter. He contended that his conviction was without due process of law, basing it on the ground that under the State law the Governor had no authority to appoint the Judge who tried him, and that he was tried and convicted by an unlawful court. The United States Supreme Court says that the highest State tribunal held that the Ashland court had always existed and was a court de jure, regardless of whether or not the Governor had the right of appointment of the Judge. The court is bound by that judgment and there being a court de jure and judge de facto, it holds that there is no ground on which to order Manning's discharge.

GEORGE CRUSE'S TRIAL.

THE DOZIER MURDER CASE BEGUN WITH THE MAIN WITNESS MISSING.

Strange Disappearance of John Quinlan, Whose Testimony Was Relied On to Secure a Conviction Against Cruse—The Olive Street Murder.

When the case against George Cruse was called in the Criminal Court this morning, Circuit Attorney Clover, representing the State, announced himself ready for trial. Attorney T. S. Burnett, representing Cruse, said he was also ready and the defendant was brought out from the court-cage. The first twelve of the special panel of jurors were then called into the box and the case was begun.

George Cruse is a colored boy. He insists that he has not yet reached his 17th year, but is alleged to be almost 20. On the morning of Saturday, Feb. 15, 1890, he shot and almost instantly killed a colored man named Henry Dozier. The tragedy took place on Olive street between Twenty-second and Twenty-third. It was about 11 o'clock in the morning and Dozier, a servant in the employ of Mrs. S. A. Hayes, was engaged in scrubbing the stone steps in front of the residence at 2221 Olive street. Cruse, George Tandy and Eb Green were passing at the time. Dozier saw the men handling some goods in a grocery wagon which stood on the opposite side of the street and gave a shout which sent the two scampering around the corner. In less than ten minutes they returned. Cruse picked up a section of rubber hose which Dozier was using in his work and started to drink out of the nozzle. Dozier ordered him away. Words passed between the men with the result that Cruse suddenly drew from behind his back a short, stout stick and struck his opponent a sharp blow on the side of the head. Dozier had in his hand at the moment a common broom, which he raised by the handle as he rushed at his tormentor. Cruse ran across the street with Dozier in hot pursuit. As the former reached the curbing he glanced over his shoulder and saw that Dozier was gaining.

DREW A REVOLVER.

Without another word he drew from his hip pocket a 32-caliber revolver and fired as he ran. The ball struck Dozier in the left breast and penetrated to the heart. Notwithstanding this the doomed man succeeded in staggering back to the north side of the street and up a flight of six steps, falling dead in the hallway of Mrs. Hayes' residence.

It was two days before the true identity of the assassins was learned. Cruse was chased two blocks by a witness on horseback, but dodged into an alley, jumped a fence and disappeared. Detectives Frese and Ziegler, now of headquarters, but at that time doing duty in the Central District, succeeded in securing evidence implicating Cruse and placed the boy under arrest. The prisoner admitted that he had fired the fatal shot but insisted that Dozier had provoked the difficulty and forced him to shoot in self-defense. From statements he made it was ascertained that George Tandy and Eb Green, both notorious young colored men, were his companions at the time of the affray. Tandy, a son of the colored politician, Chariton P. Tandy, was also taken into custody, but was discharged at the preliminary examination in the Court of Criminal Correction on account of the insufficiency of the evidence at that time submitted. Green was not found until several months after the killing. The police authorities of Kansas City caused his arrest, but no case could be made against him and he was released. Cruse was indicted for murder in the first degree.

In this action the State goes to trial without one of its most important witnesses. The day following the killing John Quinlan put in an appearance at the Four Courts and told a story which strongly implicated Tandy. Quinlan said that a few minutes before the shooting occurred he was standing at the corner of Twenty-third and Olive streets and saw Cruse, Tandy and Green on the street by the little restaurant. He heard Tandy say: "George, you hit him a crack with the stick and if he comes back at you give him your gun." He told this story at the Coroner's inquest and then disappeared.

THE MISSING WITNESS.

Quinlan was a comparative stranger in St. Louis and had worked at odd jobs in various parts of the city for about three or four months. He last boarded on Main street, between Clark avenue and Spruce, and is thought to have gone South to do Government work on the Mississippi. At one time the St. Louis authorities thought they had the man located in Illinois, but the case was one of mistaken identity. Could Quinlan be found the State could not only make a very strong showing against Cruse, but could secure the indictment of Tandy and possibly Green for aiding and abetting the commission of a murder in the first degree.

To-day a panel of forty-seven jurors will be chosen. From these men twelve will be selected to try the issue. Attorney Burnett has announced that he will take the full forty-eight hours accorded him by law in which to make his challenges, and the case can hardly go to trial before Thursday morning. Assistant Circuit Attorney Bishop will take an active part in the prosecution.

M. J. Steinberg Returns Home.

Mr. M. J. Steinberg, the hatter, returned to the city yesterday from New York, where he had been detained nearly two months with a broken leg. While walking along the street last February Mr. Steinberg slipped and fell. He sustained a compound fracture of the leg which kept him in bed six weeks, his physician forbidding him to move or undertake the journey home. He did not suffer in solitude, as he has many close friends in the metropolis who are as glad to see him out again as his many friends are here.

RAILWAY SCHEMES.

Plans for Rapid Transit in New York and Brooklyn.

PROJECTS NOW UNDER CONSIDERATION BY THE VANDERBILTS.

Figuring for the Possession of the Long Island Road—Its Immense Passenger Traffic—The Sunken System—Alliance Between the Central and Reading—Short Route From East to West.

NEW YORK, April 6.—When the New York Central got the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg Railroad and afterward made a deal with the Canadian Pacific whereby the latter, by virtue of being allowed to bring its trains in New York City, agreed to act in harmony, railroad men said that the Vanderbilts would practically get control of the situation and might now rest on their oars. At that very moment the Vanderbilts were working out what may prove to be the most elaborate scheme since the West Shore deal. For some time past they have had their eyes on New York and its vicinity, considering how they might better the terminals of the New York Central. They want it to supply the most accessible route to the West for the entire 2,500,000 inhabitants in this neighborhood, not simply for those in the upper part of Manhattan Island. The New York Central to-day furnishes no better advantages than the other roads for Brooklyn and Long Island people, although there is a gold mine over there if properly worked and connected with the Vanderbilt system. The Pennsylvania is the favorite road with Brooklyn people, and the New Jersey road gets away from the Central a good of west-bound travel. The Vanderbilts are figuring to get possession of the Long Island Railroad, which furnishes the key to the Brooklyn and Long Island situation, and which would give them besides one of the most profitable properties in the East. The Long Island Railroad, like the New York, New Haven & Hartford, occupies a unique position among railroads. It has a monopoly of the business within the territory that it occupies. Hence the profits increase proportionately with the growth of the country.

CENTRAL CONNECTIONS.

The Long Island Railroad pierces Brooklyn and Long Island City at four different points and if the Vanderbilts get control of the road they will have no trouble in connecting some of these termini with the New York Central so as to give the Brooklyn and Long Island people a practicable and convenient route to the West. How this may be done will be suggested later. Negotiations have been in progress for several weeks between the Vanderbilts and parties representing the controlling interest in the road. Austin Corbin, the Maxwells and several friends who act in harmony with them have a majority of the stock, and they can, if they see fit, turn the control of the road over to the Vanderbilts at any moment without the knowledge of the rest of the stockholders. There have been several important conferences to talk over the terms. The Vanderbilts, it is said, have given the assurance that Mr. Corbin is perfectly willing to sell, but it is a question of price. The annual meeting of the Long Island road will be held a week from to-morrow, which is too early for a transfer of stock to be effected in order to allow the Vanderbilts to name a majority of the directors. The Vanderbilts have no option at present on the Corbin stock unless the fact has been carefully concealed.

The capital stock of the company is $12,000,000, with a par value of $50 a share. It sold on Saturday on the Stock Exchange for $6, representing two shares. The funded debt on Sept. 30, 1889, was $9,815,702, and the company had a surplus of $1,404,580. The cost of the road, equipment, etc., was nearly $21,000,000. The gross earnings during 1889 were $3,447,968, $2,125,048 of this being from passengers and $972,205 from freight. The net earnings were $1,200,119, or 34½ per cent. The average net per mile was $6,364. The company pay 4 per cent dividends.

The Long Island Railroad, which is 360 miles long, has an immense passenger traffic, amounting to about $18,000,000 a year, which is greater than that of any other road about New York. Some of this is summer travel to the beaches and is easily handled. The revenue from passengers is over twice that from freight, and there seems to be no limit to its possibilities.

TUNNEL PROJECTS.

The Vanderbilts want the road primarily for the value there is in it, independent of the New York Central, and they would not simply use it as a feeder to the New York Central. Their idea is to make a great property out of it and develop the resources of the island. But, realizing the advantage that would accrue to the Central from tapping Brooklyn, they would connect the two roads at the earliest practicable date. Mr. Leary's tunnel under Forty-second street, if it goes through, will answer for a good deal of the business. It is projected to connect with the Long Island road in Long Island City about a mile away from the East River. The Rapid Transit Commissioners have agreed to allow the New York Central to extend its Fourth avenue tunnel down to the City Hall or the Battery, thus giving the Vanderbilts a part of their desired improvements. The ostensible reason was that the Central should have an opportunity to compete with the the New Jersey roads for business in lower New York. The Central will run its through trains and some of its local trains from the Battery or City Hall so that passengers can avoid the tedious half hour ride on the elevated or surface cars and also avoid the transfer. Once it gets the right to extend its tunnel to the City Hall it is believed that the New York Central will show its hand with a still greater scheme—that is, to abolish the Grand Central Station altogether and build another somewhere above the Harlem River, where it already has plenty of land. The advantage of this is that it will leave the Fourth avenue sunken system perfectly free for rapid transit service.

FOUR-TRACK SERVICE.

The four-track service can be established the entire length, worked by electricity, two tracks being devoted to express trains and two to rapid transit. This ought to afford a perfect terminal for the Central on Manhattan Island as far as out of town service is concerned. The rapid transit service would, of course, not meet the wants of the people living on either the extreme east or the extreme west side of the town. But in connection with the sunken system north of the Harlem River which has just been completed to Fordham, the service would be sure to prove popular with commuters living within easy reach of the road. They could handle all who came. That would mean many thousands more than use the Central and Harlem roads to-day. All this would not intefere with the general rapid transit which the commissioners are expected to map out, covering every quarter of the city from one end to the other.

With this tunnel extension to the Battery the New York Central will get connection with Brooklyn over the bridge. It is not improbable that the Vanderbilts would continue their tunnel under the East River from the Battery or City Hall Park to Brooklyn, touching a point not far from the east end of the bridge. Mr. Corbin's scheme for an elevated or arcade road in Atlantic avenue, extending the Long Island Railroad to the ferry, still hangs fire, but if the Vanderbilts get control of the road, it is believed that they will do something to give it a terminal in New York. It would be but a step from such a tunnel connection to through Central trains from Brooklyn, via the Battery, for the West.

A PROPOSED ALLIANCE.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Negotiations are about concluded for a close traffic alliance between the Reading and New York Central roads. The absorption of the Beech Creek Road by the Vanderbilts has rendered possible a new route from Philadelphia to Chicago 100 miles shorter than the present route via Lyons and via the New York Central road. The Vanderbilts are to construct ninety miles of road from the Western terminus of the Beech Creek to Oil City, where connection will be made with the Lake Shore road, thus forming the through route. At Ashtabula docks are to be erected over which the Reading will ship coal for Lake Superior points, and vessels will discharge cargoes of iron ore to be delivered to furnaces in the Reading's territory.

All rail freight to Chicago and other points on the Vanderbilt Western system will also go over this route instead of the present line. Another contract will be made between the Reading, Fall Brook and New York Central Companies covering the business with Central New York and Buffalo. The Reading has recently purchased a coal storage point at Buffalo, with a capacity of 350,000 tons and intends to place more coal in the Western anthracite market than before. The present contract with the New York Central was made nearly ten years ago and is wholly unsuited to the present conditions. President McLeod and some of the members of the voting trust will meet Mr. Depew and other New York Central officials some days this week to arrange the final details of the contract. The conduct of these negotiations has given rise to a rumor that the Vanderbilts intended to buy out the syndicate which holds a controlling interest in Reading Railroad stock. It was even asserted that the Vanderbilts had an option on 80,000 shares held by John Wanamaker; but this is positively denied by the Postmaster-General, and the members of the syndicate here are ignorant of the existence of any such plans. It is understood that Mr. Twombley of New York has made overtures to the syndicate, but as yet nothing has been accomplished.

CASTLE VALLEY PROJECT.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 6.—The Castle Valley Railroad has filed articles of incorporation. The capital stock is $1,000,000. The estimated cost of the road is $500,000. The road starts from Price Station on the Rio Grande Western road, in Emery County, and runs to Pittsburg, in the coal fork of Cottonwood Canon.

STOLE A MARCH ON RACINE.

RACINE, Wis., April 6.—Several months ago the City Council granted the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad the right to run a spur of truck to the Mitchell & Lewis Co. Wagon-works. The grant included two switches over Racine street, but the company desired three tracks. They failed to ask the Council for permission to get this third one, fearing that the request would be denied. So they proposed to steal a march on the city. Yesterday morning bright and early some fifteen tracklayers were set to work tearing up the street and sidewalk and laying the track. The Chief of Police was called and arrested the foreman of the gang, Mr. King, and his assistant, Mr. Gagan. While the officers were taking the two bosses down-town the other men completed the track and fled. The foremen gave bail for their appearance to-day.

OPPOSES REMOVAL.

A Sudden Complication in St. George's Church Affairs.

TROUBLE BETWEEN THE RECTOR AND A FORMER CHIEF VESTRYMAN.

Joseph W. Branch Opposes the Contemplated Change in the Church Site and Will Vote His Stock Against It—Rev. Dr. Holland Claims the Stock Belongs to Him.

At the close of the regular morning services of St. George's Episcopal Church, which, since the burning of the church building recently, have been held in Rabbi Sonnenschein's Temple Israel, Dr. R. A. Holland, the rector, yesterday exploded a bomb, figuratively speaking:

In a few quiet words the rector touched upon the question of the moving of the church further westward, such action being made possible by the destruction of the beautiful edifice that had stood so many years at the corner of Beaumont and Chestnut streets, and after dwelling upon the necessities for such a move, announced positively that unless it were made he would resign the charge of St. George's into other hands.

A CHURCH COMPLICATION.

Back of the sudden and prounounced stand of Dr. Holland's there is a story which is likely to result in some sensational developments before the question of the church removal is settled. It is understood that while the vestry of St. George's is practically unanimous in favor of a westward move the move may be rendered impossible by opposition from a source that will awaken a bitter personal war between the rector and a once leading light of St. George's Church and vestry. The gentleman who, it is said, threatens to hold St. George's Church to its present locality or bring about a forfeiture of the church property, is Mr. Jos. W. Branch of the Branch-Crookes Saw Co., who was once chief vestryman of St. George's, but who for two years past has not been actively identified with the church affairs.

Mr. Branch holds $13,500 of the stock of the St. George's Church Society, a duly chartered corporate company. This society was organized in 1878, at the time of the rebuilding of St. George's Church in its present locality. The old church had an indebtedness of $57,000 upon it, and stock to that amount was issued in shares of $50 each, being taken by wealthy members of the congregation, among whom was Mr. Branch. Most of the stock was immediately surrendered to the Vestry Board, so that it was virtually a gift to the church, and the vestry has since that time managed the affairs of the company, electing officers, directors, etc. The present officers of the St. George's Church Society are Edwin Harrison, President; Joseph W. Branch, Vice-President; Western Bascome, Secretary, and a board of directors. The charter of the society provided that the church property could not be encumbered, nor abandoned by the church to be used for other purposes, without a four-fifths vote of the stockholders of the St. George's Church Society. If such action were taken by the vestry of the church without that vote, the property was to revert to the stockholders.

JOSEPH W. BRANCH'S OPPOSITION.

Upon this provision it is said that Mr. Branch will take his stand and make a determined effort to prevent the church moving further westward. For some time past there has not been a good feeling existing between Mr. Branch and Rev. Dr. Holland, and the former's position in the matter is understood to arise largely from that fact. Acting with Mr. Branch in the impending struggle there is believed to one other stockholder, owning $1,000 stock of the St. George's Church Society. All the remaining $43,500 of the stock is held by the vestry, and will be voted solid in favor of the move westward when the time comes for such action. But the stock held by Mr. Branch alone would prevent the necessary four-fifths majority, and it is understood that he will vote his $13,500 againts the proposition.

DR. HOLLAND CLAIMS BRANCH'S STOCK.

Right here comes in the point where a sensational development will be reached. Rev. Dr. Holland claims that, although Mr. Branch holds that amount of stock, he is not its rightful owner. The stock, according to Dr. Holland, belongs to Dr. Holland himself, and that claim will be advanced the very moment the stock is voted against the contemplated move.

It is stated that at the time of Mr. Branch's business troubles, about two years ago, he gave this stock to Dr. Holland, and its disposition to that effect was so recorded in Mr. Branch's books. Otherwise the $13,500 stock in the St. George's Church Society would have formed a portion of Mr. Branch's assets and would have gone towards satisfying his creditors. The stock was not formally transferred to Dr. Holland, for the reason that it had been misplaced, but Mr. Branch visited the rector and told him of the gift, there being witnesses to that fact. Since that time the stock has been found, it is said, but it is still held by Mr. Branch, and there is now but little prospect of its being surrendered to Dr. Holland. It is said that the claim to its ownership would not be pressed were it not that it is to be used to prevent the church making the desired change of location. There is very grave doubt, however, that any legal claim to the stock on the rector's part could be maintained, and if the present holder stands firm in his opposition to the move westward, the intention announced by Rev. Dr. Holland yesterday of resigning the pulpit of St. George's may eventually have to be carried out.

PROSPECT OF TROUBLE.

Under these circumstances the St. George's vestry and congregation are much stirred up over the matter, and its settlement will be awaited with the greatest anxiety. It is believed that a vote on the question of removal will be had by the vestry during the present week, under the sudden stand taken by Rev. Dr. Holland, and it is probable that a strong effort will be made by the vestry members to induce Mr. Branch to vote his stock in favor of the move. Should he decline to do so, however, it is believed that there will be a bitter controversy between Rev. Dr. Holland and himself as to the ownership of the stock in question. Those who know Dr. Holland, and who are familiar with his strong desire to have have St. George's Church established on a site further west, believe that he will not abandon the struggle easily, while it is also thought Mr. Branch will be equally firm. The settlement of the church insurance is now under way, being in the hands of a vestry committee composed of J. N. Bofinger, Isaac M. Mason and Hugh Rogers, with Appraisers Ross and Bonsack at work estimating the damage done by the recent fire. With the settlement of the insurance the question of removal will then have to be disposed of at once.

REV. DR. HOLLAND SEEN.

Rev. Dr. Holland was seen this morning, but refused to discuss the probable difficulty between himself and Mr. J. W. Branch. He stated that he was in dead earnest in his announcement yesterday from the pulpit, because he believed such a move to be necessary to preserve the very existance of St. George's Church.

Mr. Joseph W. Branch is out of the city at present. His son, Joseph C. Branch, was seen and said:

"My father would not tell you if he were how he intends to vote his stock on the question of the removal of St. George's Church. He is at outs with the St. George's people, he does not attend that church and he has nothing to say as to what he proposes to do. He is a stockholder in the St. George's Church Society, but as to what he intends doing when the question of moving the church comes to a vote he would not, I am sure, express himself."

DAVIS NOT DIVORCED.

THE MAN WHO ELOPED WITH STELLA RAGSDALE BOUND BY MARITAL TIES.

The Case Against Him Called This Morning in the Criminal Court—Letter Received From Farmington, Io., Proving Him a Married Man.

There were some new developments in the case of Charles E. Davis, charged with enticing away Stella Ragsdale, when it was called for trial this morning in the Court of Criminal Correction. Mr. Maginnis, attorney for Davis, demanded an immediate trial, stating that an attempt was being made to get Miss Stella Ragsdale, a most important witness for the defendant, out of the way so that she could not testify. State's Attorney Clover answered by saying that the girl had been spirited away by persons interested in the defense, which assertion was answered by Mr. Storts stating that she left home because of the brutal treatment by her mother. Mr. Clover said the case could not possibly be tried before April 16, which time was set for hearing. Miss Ragsdale was not in the court-room, but was secreted in the near vicinity in case her testimony was needed. She was not brought to the court-room because it was feared she would be arrested on a charge of being incorrigible, preferred by her mother. In the course of Mr. Maginnis' remarks he stated that some interesting developments may be expected before the case was concluded, and that it was probable that Mrs. Mary E. Jameson, mother of Miss Ragsdale, would be made the defendant in just as serious a case as the one now pending against Davis and her daughter.

THE CHARGE AGAINST DAVIS.

Davis, it will be remembered, is charged with enticing Miss Stella Ragsdale away from her mother's home, on Manchester road, for immoral purposes. The couple endeavored to procure a marriage license here, but failed in their endeavor and went to Alton that night, remaining there for some three days, when they returned to St. Louis, Davis' arrest following the day after their arrival, or Dec. 17. Since that time Davis has been confined at the Four Courts, although Miss Ragsdale has always professed a willingness to swear that he did not even make an improper proposal to her. Miss Ragsdale, after the arrest of White, went back home, where she remained for more than two months, enduring, according to her statement as published after the discovery of her whereabouts by a POST-DISPATCH reporter on Benton street, near Twelfth street, a series of most diabolical cruelties. Upon one occasion, she alleges, her mother, Mrs. Jameson, knocked her insensible in front of a number of boarders with a wooden goblet, inflicting a wound on the side of her head that did not heal for several weeks. Mrs. Jameson reported to the police upon the occasion of her daughter's last disappearance that she had again eloped, this time going away as the paramour of a man named John Simonds, who had been a boarder at the Jameson house. This assertion was proven to be utterly without foundation, as Miss Ragsdale was found to have been with an elderly lady friend from the day of her last disappearance.

IS DAVIS DIVORCED?

At the time that Miss Ragsdale was interviewed, Davis was also seen and gave his view of the case, holding that the charge that he was a married man, with a wife and family, was false, as he had a divorce from his Farmington (Io.) wife, saying further that he was ready to marry Miss Ragsdale as soon as he was free. Mrs. Jameson, not being satisfied with the statement that Davis had a divorce, wrote letters of inquiry, the answers of which will prove interesting to those who have followed this case. They prove that Davis was either mistaken or told a deliberate falsehood when he said that he had a legal final separation from his wife. Under date of Farmington, Io., James C. Cave, father-in-law of Davis, writes as follows concerning the family relations of Davis with his wife:

> In answer to your letter of the 13th I will state that it did not surprise me any. I expected to hear that he was in prison before this. Charles E. Davis has a wife and two children living in Farmington now, and she has to work for her living and support the children. He was legally married about five or six years ago, and deserted his wife three years ago this spring, leaving a baby only 8 days old at the time. As far as I know my daughter has not seen him since. Davis has no divorce from this county and he never will. His wife is my daughter. I live four and one-half miles from town.

Jos. I. Israel, Clerk of the District Court of Van Buren County, Io., in which Farmington is located, writes to Mrs. Jameson as follows in answer to an inquiry:

> Yours of March 27 at hand. I have made a careful examination of the records and cannot find where any divorce was ever granted to Charles E. Davis. I find where he was married October, 1885, but no divorce.

State's Attorney Clover now has these letters in his possession.

VOTE to-morrow.

VOTE to-morrow to down boss dictation.

VOTE to-morrow to down the spoils "combine."

VOTE to-morrow to abolish "Boodle Hall."

VOTE to-morrow to down the boodle gang in the City Hall.

IT is not improper to allude to the shirkulation of the Republic.

FRAUDULENT registrations cannot prevail against a big popular vote.

VOTE to-morrow to down the men who are guilty of fraudulent registrations.

VOTE to-morrow to put a stop to the sale of franchises for private gain.

THERE are enough voters in the homes of this city to down the repeaters from the dens.

VOTING and vigilance on the part of citizens will be the price of victory for decency to-morrow.

VOTE to-morrow to prevent the packing of the municipal offices with boodlers, political bummers and hoodlums.

ST. LOUIS is not prepared to hand over the city government to bogus voters registered from Levee boarding-houses.

FILLING the ballot-boxes with honest ballots will defeat all schemes to win the election by packing the polls with dishonest voters.

THERE was not a department of Sunday journalistic enterprise in which the superiority of yesterday's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH was not clearly manifest.

THE redemption of St. Louis from the disgraceful and costly rule of bosses and boodlers lies in the casting of ballots to-morrow by the citizens of St. Louis.

A CHOICE of evils is all that the voters have in the contests for the House of Delegates in some of the wards, but the best men irrespective of parties should be selected in all cases.

TO-MORROW'S contest involves a square issue between the machine bosses, who care only for their own selfish and corrupt interests, and citizens who have regard for the public welfare.

THE POST-DISPATCH favors the Independent Municipal ticket and indorses the proposition of the advertisers that the newspapers should make known their city and country circulation and their week day and Sunday circulation.

THE first statement from Detective O'MALLEY appeared exclusively in the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH yesterday, also the first statement of the bogus registrations in this city. As a newspaper the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH was a day ahead of the rest.

THE Independent Municipal ticket represents clean men and clean methods; it represents freedom from boss dictation and opposition to boodle and spoils combines. The election of this ticket would assure the conduct of the city government upon sound business principles and the appointment of good men to official places. It should receive the support at the polls to-morrow of all citizens who have the good of St. Louis at heart.

TO-MORROW'S VOTE.

There are enough tickets in the field of to-morrow's election to attract all registered voters to the polls.

Republicans and Democrats willing to trust their respective political machines with the management of the strictly business affairs of the city, without a word of definition or promise in regard to any question of municipal policy, can show their faith by voting for their respective machine tickets.

The multitude of voters who put the city's interests above irrelevant party claims on their support, and who see in the boodle transactions of the outgoing Assembly how the political machines usually swindle a city in making private profit out of franchises which should be made to yield the municipality a large revenue, have an opportunity now to condemn and reform that sort of thing by voting for the Independent Council ticket.

These citizens can outvote either of the machines if they are so disposed. The boodler is confident that they are a set of confirmed non-voters, chronic dissidents, who find fault in everything done but do nothing themselves, and who are afraid to vote for anybody lest they should afterwards have to blame themselves for putting somebody into a city office.

This belief of the boodler or machine boss, which encourages him to go so far and operate the boodle machine with such daring effrontery, is based on the fact that the present generation has never seen a municipal election in St. Louis in which the result might not have been reversed by the united action of one-fourth of those who failed to vote. The non-voter, the man who is too independent to vote at all, is mainly responsible for most of the bad work of the ballot-box in St. Louis.

There will be an admirable opportunity to-morrow either to confirm the boodler's theory and practice or to demolish both and win the battle for municipal reform by simply polling the full registered vote. But the habitual non-voter must reform himself before he can reform anything in politics or city affairs.

SILENCED.

ON Friday a communication signed by fifty of the leading advertising firms of St. Louis was sent to the three leading advertising newspapers of St. Louis, the POST-DISPATCH, the Globe-Democrat and the Republic.

The communication contained a fair and reasonable request for such information on the subject of circulation as every advertiser has a right to expect, and the request was promptly acceded to by the POST-DISPATCH and the Globe-Democrat.

Thus far no word has been heard from the Republic, nor has any intimation been given that it will take any notice of the fair and reasonable request. It is hardly worth while to speculate on the possible reasons which may operate to prevent the Republic from allowing its circulation to be known.

In such a matter silence is confession. In a comparison of the circulations of the respective St. Louis papers the Republic is "not in it."

TRICKS OF THE RINGSTERS.

The desperation of the bosses and the villainous means they are using to carry the election to-morrow were shown in the exposure by yesterday's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH of the registration frauds committed by their creatures in preparation for dirty work at the polls.

The failure of the State Legislature to adopt a stringent corrupt practices act leaves several avenues open for the perpetration of crimes against the purity of the ballot-box. The Australian ballot law prevents the intimidation of voters and the voting of men in blocks under the supervision of heelers, but it does not prevent the corrupt use of money to purchase voters if the bosses choose to trust them to carry out the compact; it does not prevent the use of repeaters, the voting of dead men or the packing of the polls with straw voters if the election officers can be deceived by false registrations.

That the party bosses will endeavor to defeat the will of the people by the most outrageous frauds there can be no doubt. The SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH gave a number of instances in which small boarding-houses, saloons, dens and dives have been packed with voters for use in to-morrow's election. The willingness of the machine bosses to resort to these dangerous practices to win shows that they regard the election as a most important one for their selfish interests. They know that defeat means the breaking of their power, and the loss of an enormous aggregate of spoils and opportunities for dishonest gain.

The eagerness of the spoils combine to obtain a majority for their tools by all means is proof also of the immense stake which the city has in the contest. The preparation for the commission of frauds should stimulate citizens to extraordinary vigilance, and should impress upon them the necessity of going to the polls and casting their ballots in opposition to the ringsters of both parties for the honest and clean Independent candidates, who are free from boss dictation and boodle influences.

The only safety for the city lies in the united support at the polls of honest candidates by all honest citizens. There is victory for the people in a big vote.

THE exposure of fraudulent registrations of fictitious names in the Recorder of Voters' office indicates that it was the purpose of the machine to have an election for instead of by the people. To checkmate their rascally scheme it is the duty of all citizens to vote for candidates free from their influences. This will insure the election of the Independent ticket.

IT would not be difficult for the Democratic party in St. Louis to get rid of its Pete Morrisseys and its Tom Wands, its Cronins and its Levee boarding-house registrations, and until it does this it will be hard for the Democratic party to secure confidence in its honesty.

VERY CLEVER SCHEMERS.

Councilmen Sloan and Walbridge Form a Combine.

At 10 o'clock this morning the two Houses of the Municipal Assembly held the last meeting that will be held by either body before the election.

In the Council all the members were present. The meeting was a simple formality, there being but very little business to transact. The two candidates for re-election, Messrs. Nagel and Comfort, were rather busy with their campaign affairs, Mr. Comfort being especially active. He found time during the recesses to get over to the House of Delegates and hold conferences with the members there with a fine disregard for political creeds. The proceedings this morning lasted only a few minutes.

Messers. Cole, Meier and Sloan were appointed to wait on the Mayor and learn if he had any further business. He was not in his office but was reached by telephone and the announcement came back that he had no business for the Council. A recess was then taken until the House of Delegates could be heard from. During this recess the Councilmen resumed their discussion of politics and the talk about the Independent movement was flying pretty fast, and Mr. Vogel practically admitted that he was defeated, but Mr. Comfort was, as usual, non-committal. Mr. Metcalfe was quietly rejoicing over the fact that after to-day he would no longer be a member of the Council, and he solemnly announced that he would never do it again.

The members who lose their identity as legislators to-day are Messrs. Comfort, Ganahl, Metcalfe, Nelson, Rohan and Vogel, the other members, Messrs. Bensiek, Cole, Hoolan, Horton, Meier, Sloan and President Walbridge, hold over.

Under the rules of the Council the new Council will meet on the third Tuesday at 3 p. m., which this year falls on the 21st, and on that day Councilman Sloan hopes that his long-looked for opportunity will come. He has already made a dicker with President Walbridge which may make Mr. Sloan the balance of power, and Mr. Walbridge will be out of the city in search of health on that day and Mr. Sloan has agreed to pair with President Walbridge and call a halt on organization if things go against him. In other words he will on that day represent himself and the President. If, as the Democratic prophets predict, six Democrats are elected, Mr. Sloan under the agreement will be the biggest man in the Council because there will be six Democrats and six Republicans in the Council with Mr. Sloan in the balance. It takes seven votes to elect the Vice-President, the Secretary and his assistant and the Sergeant-at-Arms. In any event Mr. Sloan has secured a position which will clothe him in a little brief glory and then he will drop back into his old place in the Noonan ranks. The Council adjourned sine die.

House of Delegates.

In the House of Delegates no interest whatever was displayed as far as the regular business was concerned. The members went through the necessary motions with scant courtesy, and while the House was in session occupied themselves in emptying their desks of their personal possessions. Nearly every man in the lot was a candidate for re-election, but the most conspicous figure in the lot was George Grassmuck, who has graduated from the ranks of the Lower House and is trying for the Council. He was looked up to by the members with that same admiring respect that Ed Butler was when he came in a moment later. Very shortly after the adjournment the whole resumed their political work and started out to look after their wards.

Stabbed by His Wife.

Lawrence Dilly and his wife Laura became involved in a quarrel at their home on Ninth and Carr streets yesterday afternoon. Dilly threw his wife to the ground and tried to choke her, but she drew a penknife from her pocket and inflicted a bad cut in his chest. Police officers arrived at this juncture and placed the couple under arrest. Dilly's wound was dressed at the Dispensary and pronounced not dangerous, after which he was locked up. His wife was released after a brief examination. Dilly has been arrested several times before for beating his wife.

ILLEGAL VOTING.

OUTRAGEOUS FRAUDS TO BE COMMITTED IN TO-MORROW'S ELECTION.

The Party Machines Stopping at Nothing to Maintain Their Supremacy.

NECESSITY OF RESPECTABLE CITIZENS GOING TO THE POLLS.

Nine Straw Voters Registered From a Vacant Lot on Arkansas Avenue—The Stone Wall of Sacred Heart Convent Designated as the Residence of Two Straw Men—How the Party Managers Propose to Work the Repeaters

If there is and law for loading the poll books with bogus registrations the offenders will get it this time. The citizens who have taken a deep interest in the Independent movement have subscribed a special fund for the prosecution of the straw-voter manufacturers. The notice for publication at the polls offering a reward of $25 for each arrest and conviction was drawn up yesterday and will be distributed to-night.

The Democrats have packed the wards with straw voters and if they are voted the Democrats will win.

Those who will represent the Independents at the polls will make use of the information they have, and before to-morrow night the cells of the jail will contain many a repeater unless the bosses determine not to vote their straw men and dead men. Never before in St. Louis has a party resorted to more infamous methods to elect the machine men than at this time, and the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH exposed the methods so fully and made the case so plain that the registration frauds were the sole topic of conversation at the "corners" yesterday, and the Democratic politicians did not dare deny them. They knew there were more to come, and of even a worse nature, if possible, than those already made public.

The representatives of the Independents are making a careful canvass of a number of the wards where the straw voters are placed, and the revelations are amazing.

REGISTERED FROM A VACANT LOT.

Here is one case that ought to arouse the indignation of every honest citizen.

From 2245 Arkansas avenue the following names are registered:

David Coody,
Wm. Clancy,
Samuel Kone,
Charles Kingston,
James P. Lord,
Joseph Lowe,
Joseph Sanders,
Michael Spellman,
Charles Whitfield,

The number, 2245 Arkansas avenue, from which they are registered, is a vacant lot.

They have not only packed boarding houses and saloons with more voters than they could hold, but, running short of them, they have even used vacant lots as a place to store their straw men. It needs no further proof than this to show conclusively that the Democratic party is resorting to illegal and criminal methods to elect the slate dictated in secret caucus by the Mayor, and it is also apparent that when such means are adopted to secure the election of caucus nominees this purpose in the election is not to administer the government of this city, or to attend to its business affairs with the pure purpose of benefiting them. The party would not resort to criminal means to secure the city's welfare, but it will adopt such methods to perpetuate the control of the ring and the rule of the bosses.

This vacant lot crowd is in the Twenty-fifth ward. A good deal of straw voting will be done there to defeat Jere Coakley, who is making an independent race for the House of Delegates, but the same straw votes will be cast for the regular Democratic ticket for the Council. From one of the candidates the statement comes that there are 412 false registrations in the ward, and the Democratic candidates do not depend upon the Democratic votes, but upon the 412 to carry the ward.

From him also it was learned that the heelers who were to do the work were to assemble in the morning in the First Ward, and after voting the straw men and the dead there they were to move to the Third Ward and do the work there. When they finish with the Third they will begin to scatter and will go to the Second, Fourth, Fifth, Tenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth and Twenty-fifth Wards. From the Third Ward some will go west, some south and some north, and during the day they will be changed off so that their faces will not become too familiar around the polls.

SUSPICIOUS REGISTRATION.

There is a good deal of work to be done in the First before the repeaters can leave there. Houses in that ward are packed full, though Mr. F. G. Bauer, the proprietor of the Illinois House at 210 South Second street, says that the thirteen registered from there live in the house and are all working men. But take the list of voters at the boarding house kept by Peter Morrissey's mother. It is as follows:

Martin Burk.
Michael Dalton.
Edward Dawes.
Henry Dawes.
John Dempsey.
Michael Donoghue.
Wm. Fitzpatrick.
Patrick Dougherty.
John M. Foley.
Peter Glynn.
Wm. C. Greene.

Jas. E. Leamy.
Ed H. Welsh.

E. J. Morissey.
P. R. Morissey.
Thos. Morissey.
Edward J. Murphy.
John Murphy.
Wm. Towers.
Frank H. Roberts.
Jas. Sanderson.
Chas. F. Gormley.
John M. Lynch.
Chas. Hale King.
John B. Larkin.
Wm. J. Mohncorn.
James Daly.
John Gallagher.
Wm. Munkohr.

The block in which this house is located, between 600 and 700 South Broadway, contains ninety-four registrations, or more than one-fifth of the entire number of votes in the precinct. The steamboat boarding-house at 211 South Levee is a place where men stop for a day or two and then go away, but in the meantime the heelers of the Ward get their names and they are duly registered. The registration from this house is the following:

Charles Barnum.
Joseph Caulfield.
Leander A. Custer.
Miley Dorsey.
Chas. Frame.
John C. Frisbie.
Jacob Hellman
John Holmes.
Leon V. Legg.
John F. Long.

REGISTERED FROM A CONVENT.

Mr. Charles Sachse, Republican candidate for the House of Delegates from the Third Ward, said to-day the bogus registration business was pretty extensive in his ward. He took a registration list and sent out circulars to such supposed voters as he did not know. Two were sent to alleged voters at 514 and 516 LaSalle (formerly Labadie street). They were returned by the letter carrier marked "convent wall." Mr. Sachse says there are no such numbers, and that the numbers given correspond to two sections of the eighteen-foot stone wall of the old Sacred Heart Convent. He says he has not yet completed his examination, but supposes that the other parts of the convent walls have been utilized for residence numbers, just as has been done in the above cases.

Mr. Webber, for many years a resident of the Third Ward, said: "I lived a year and a half at 830 Gratiot street and I am positive that there are not twenty-one voters living at 912, as claimed."

TWENTY-ONE FROM ONE HOUSE.

The men who are registered from 917 Gratiot street are:

Atwell, John
Bannon, Andy.
Boyle, James.
Brown, John.
Cartwright, David J.
Martin Edson Curtis.
Quigley, Mike.
Reynolds, John.
Ruff, Phil A.
Tackney, James
Donnelly, John.
Dunn, Miles.
Gentry, Samuel.
Golding, Thomas.
Grinley, Ed P.
Lewallen, James William.
Grimley, James.
Hunter, Bernard J.
Johnson, Joseph.
McDonald, John.
Walk, Charles.

DEAD MEN ON THE LISTS.

One of the most remarkable cases is found in the saloon and six rooms run by James Cronin, who is a candidate for the House of Delegates. In this small place the bosses have succeeded in packing away the following twenty-one votes:

James Cronin.
Robert E. Cronin.
John Geist
Jere Healey.
John Lynch.
Alex. B. McGrey.
John Peyton.
Martin Shaughnessy.
Wm. C. Music.
George M. Schmitz.
John W. Buttermore.
James Cronin, Jr.
John Duffy.
Frank Gilbert.
Richard Lee.
Peter J. McDermott.
Jeff Prendergast.
Charles W. Seip.
Albert Zeisler.
Patrick M. Shaw
John E. Veldon.

There are fewer registrations from either the Southern or Lindell Hotels than from this saloon house.

George W. Prendergast, the well-known contractor, said to-day:

"I saw by yesterday's SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH that my step-brother, Jeff Prendergast, is registered from Cronin's saloon in the First Ward. Poor Jeff was killed a year ago last spring, and it made me feel sad to read that. I was sure he had gone to a better place."

Another First Ward house which comes to the front with a phenomenal list is No. 1 South Main street, where twenty-three voters are alleged to reside. The names registered from this house are:

Wm. Ellis.
Thomas Kearns.
John S. Lane.
Frank McCarthy.
John McMahon.
Wm. Maddeen.
Chas. Smith.
Wm. Thompson.
George J. Payne.
John Wright.
Wm. Dieter,
Pat Flaherty
Edward J. Fleming.
Martin Kraus.
Patrick Gill.
Thomas Mullen.
Wm. Morris.
Luke Manion.
John Nolan.
John Noonan
John B. Power.
Simon Shetler.
Miles Fitzhenry.

The Independents are continuing their canvass with eminently satisfactory results. When the polls open to-morrow morning they will have men at each place with lists of straw voters and any man who attempts to vote on those names will be promptly arrested. The fact that the wards have been packed with straw men is not a matter of doubt. It has been proved and there will be no hesitation about commanding the arrest of the men who attempt to perpetrate such frauds.

REPUBLICANS TAKE ACTION.

The Republican Committee has been at work investigating reports that there would be organized gangs of repeaters out to-morrow and this morning succeeded in running down one of these organizations. It was located in the Seventeenth Ward and organized for work in the Twenty-fifth and Fifteenth Wards. A notorious tough, who hangs around Pool alley, was found to be the leader. He intends to take twenty men out to-morrow and vote them wherever they can in the wards where Democratic candidates for the House are in jeopardy.

As soon as the committee became positive that wholesale repeating was contemplated, it took steps to prevent the repeaters from carrying out their programme. The Central Committeemen of the wards were instructed to be on the alert and keep a sharp lookout everywhere, but particularly in the wards where it is most expected.

"We will have representatives at every polling place," said Secretary McGrew this morning, "and the repeaters will have no easy time voting on the names of other men. We do not expect to be caught napping, as those who attempt to repeat will discover when they try it."

The Reasons Why.

A very prominent Democrat, speaking to-day of the Independent ticket and the necessity for its election, said:

"The nomination of the Independent Municipal ticket was made manfully and irrespective of the nominations to be made by either of the old party organizations. Aside from any other consideration, this manly independence, being typical of American institutions, deserves recognition and support by all American citizens, whether native born or naturalized. But there are other and imperative reasons why this Independent Municipal ticket should be elected.

"First—It is our duty to elect this ticket in order that nominations in future by political parties will be made in accordance with the wishes of the people. This is a move to demonstrate the will and the power of the people to nominate and to elect suitable officers, since the political conventions fail to nominate acceptable candidates.

"Second—Franchises which should yield the city a handsome and a permanent revenue have been granted for nominal considerations. These franchises, if properly taxed, would yield a large proportion of the city's revenue. But they are given for nothing, and others will be given away in like manner. This means that a large part of the taxable property has been declared by law not subject to taxation in future.

"The necessities of the city are increasing year by year; that is, more money will be required. How is this money to be secured? General taxation cannot be increased without amending the State Constitution and the city charter. But the Municipal Assembly has unlimited power to levy and to increase the license tax upon manufacturers, merchants, brokers, brewers, saloons and vehicles.

TO INCREASE THE MERCHANTS' TAX.

"There is no dodging the fact, if the process of giving away franchises is continued, the Municipal Assembly will be forced to supply this deficiency in the revenue by increasing the "license tax" upon manufacturers, merchants, brokers, brewers, saloons and vehicles. The only way to stop this is to elect the Independent Municipal ticket for Councilmen. This is not a question of politics—not a question of opposition to Mayor Noonan, but it is a question of dollars and cents and a question of self-preservation with manufacturers, merchants, brokers, brewers, saloons and owners of vehicles. In order to convince the people that the danger line in this direction has been reached, it is only necessary to point to the fact that both branches of the last State Legislature did pass a bill to increase merchants' and manufacturers' license tax. When the bill was returned to the Senate that body by a resolution instructed its presiding officer to withhold his signature. The same sort of legislation will of necessity be repeated in our Municipal Assembly provided this wholesale process of placing franchises on the free list, as to taxes, is not stopped.

NOMINATIONS BOUGHT.

"Candidates nominated by party conventions have to pay for that nomination and are forced to contribute large sums for campaign expenses for election to an office the salary of which is only $300 per annum. This principle is wrong, and the consequences are vicious. Men elected in that way have paid for their offices. They are not 'servants of the people,' but are their own masters, in possession of offices which have been bought with their own money. Sooner or later the opportunities will be presented for repayment of this enforced purchase money. In accepting these opportunities in the first instance, these officers reconcile their consciences with the fact that they are recovering an enforced contribution.

"It is, however, different with the candidates on the Independent Municipal Ticket. These candidates were not assessed, nor were they permitted to contribute any money to the campaign fund. If elected they will be elected by the people and at the cost of the people so that no incentive will exist to recover 'enforced contributions.' In many years, this is the first opportunity presented to the people to vote for candidates who have not sought their nominations and who have not contributed money to be used for their own election. This is as it should be, and the people, the whole people, without distinction of party or politics, should give this experiment a fair trial by voting for the 'Independent Municipal ticket.'

"St. Louis is growing rapidly and at this time the necessity exists for intelligent and honest legislation, the effects of which may and will influence the material interests of the city and the prosperity of her people for all time to come."

The Anti-Catholic Circular.

On Friday night the entire city was flooded with a four-page pink circular denouncing the Catholic Church and urging all the voters to scratch at election all of the men on the list who were Catholics. The last page of the circular gave a full list of all the candidates, and all who were Catholics had the letter C set down against their names. The spreading of this circular naturally aroused a great deal of indignation, and everybody was desirous of finding out who was the originator or who it was that was backing the scheme. From facts learned to-day it would seem that Mr. C. D. Comfort, candidate for the Council, if not directly connected with it at least sanctioned the move.

Joseph Hammond, a boy of about 18 years of age, who earned 75 cents on Friday night by distributing circulars, tells the following story:

"Thirteen of us from this neighborhood were hired Friday night by Walter Shipley to hand out circulars. We left here about 10:30 Friday night and were taken to that place they sell cider on Olive street, just west of Fourteenth. We were told that we were to give out Comfort tickets and went there. They had about 8,000 circulars all folded up and ready and we took them without looking at them. We were given districts; I went down in the neighborhood of Eleventh and Marion. When we got through some of us went to the Beanery for lunch, and then we looked at some of the circulars we had left. When we were given the circulars we were told that if we were arrested to telegraph for Shipley or Comfort and they would bail us out."

The story Hammond tells has been told by several of the other boys living in the same neighborhood.

Howarth's Trick.

George M. Howarth, who is running for the House of Delegates in the Twelfth Ward, has turned a political trick which has excited a good deal of comment in the ward. In addition to securing the Republican nomination, he sought a place on the Independent ticket and when he was refused he prepared a pepared a petition headed "Independent Municipal Ticket" and circulated it through the ward. He only needed fifty names to be nominated in this manner and after two days and nights of work he secured them and filed his petition. The result is that he will get on the ballot under a head, "Independent Municipal Ticket," but he is not and has not been indorsed by the Independents. He is backed by a notorious character here who has twice been defeated for a House nomination within the last year. The only time that Howorth was ever prominent in St. Louis before was when Sergt. Hennessey arrested him because he found him "laying for a policeman" with half a brick wrapped up in a towel.

Busy Day at the Headquarters.

All the campaign committees are hard at work to-day getting matters in shape for to-morrow's contest. The Independents and Democrats are confident of success, but the Republicans find it difficult to indulge in any exultation over the outlook. Chairman George Bain reached the headquarters early this morning, wearing his usual smile and buttonhole bouquet. "This report that I intend to resign and that I am disgusted with the campaign is not at all true," he said with vehemence. "It all came out of a jocular remark I made to John McFall at the meeting Saturday night. I did not mean to give out the impression that got into print. I will stay on the committee, and another thing, I am not at all discouraged at the outlook. The Republicans will be out voting to-morrow, and they will vote the Republican ticket."

A. J. Davis of the Financial Committee of the Republican organization was in the committee rooms early and remained the greater part of the day. He said: "We will do our best to win and we hope to succeed. I see it is reported that our treasury is in a depleted condition and that we are disgusted and disgruntled. Just say for me that such is not the case. The subscription for the legitimate purposes of the campaign have been fully up to our expectations and we are not at all disappointed. We have as much money—even more than was used by the Ninth District Committee in Mr. Prosser's campaign."

Chairman Stansbury of the Democratic Campaign Committee was at the headquarters, 919 Olive, the greater part of the day. The candidates and workers dropped in and out during the day and all predicted a sweeping victory. "Our ticket will be elected from top to bottom," said Chairman Stansbury to all callers.

An air of confidence prevailed at the Independent headquarters. The campaign managers were in good humor over the encouraging reports from all sections of the city and the many callers were told that the vote of the Independents would be in the nature of a surprise party to the political bosses who have been sneering at the movement ever since its inception. The canvassers who have been locating straw voters registered to help out the administration ticket handed in a number of reports during the day. These reports, the result of a most careful and searching investigation, show a heavy fraudulent registration, but the ward strikers will not have such an easy time voting their straw. The representatives of the Independent party will have these names and will ask the arrest of those who attempt to vote them.

Contest in the Twenty-First Ward.

In the Twenty-first Ward Mr. Sylvester P. Keyes, the Republican candidate, is drawing a great many Democrats to his support. His business and residence have been established in the ward for the past twenty years, where he is personally known to every voter, and as he is known to pe a pushing, energetic business man, of business habits and methods, there is a general feeling that he is the kind of a man who is wanted to represent the ward in the House of Delegates. It is safe to say that if he is elected the ricketty old wooden bridges over the railroad tracks at Twelfth and Fourteenth streets will be replaced by modern structures, and this is the paramount issue at present among his constituents.

Vicious Arrests.

Henry J. Sexton and John Huckley of the Street Department arrested two boys, Harry Rittenberg and Omer Perkinson, who were distributing Independent literature. The subordinates in this department have persisted in arresting the distributers of the Independent circulars, even dogging them around the street until by accident they should drop a circular, but the town has been flooded with fanatical and idiotic circulars in opposition to a certain faith, and not one of these men have been arrested, though they have violated the law in every instance, while the boys working for the Independents have used more than ordinary caution.

Instructing Judges and Clerks.

To-day was a very busy day at Recorder of of Voters Carlisle's office. The judges and clerks were being instructed as to their duties for to-morrow and provided with books and ballot boxes. Under the new law the number of judges and clerks is greatly increased, so that it was no small task to get all arranged.

Recorder Carlisle took his stand by the table in the big inner room of his office, and at a given signal a deputy would shout out the number of a ward and then request all judges and clerks from that ward to step up and get their instruction. The men were taken in batches in this fashion until they had all been put through the formalities and administered the oath.

Political Notes.

The Tenth Ward Democrats will have a meeting to-night at Fifteenth and Cass avenue. Congressman O'Neill and H. J. Spaunhorst will deliver addresses.

The campaign for the House of Delegates in the Twenty-eighth Ward between Thomas J. Bradshaw, the Democratic candidate, and W. B. Long, the choice of the Republicans, has been exceedingly animated. Bradshaw's supporters are confidently predicting his election to-day, and Long's friends declare that they will make the effort of their lives to overcome the Democratic majority in that section.

A meeting of the independent voters of the Second and Fourth Wards was held at Broadway and Biddle streets to-day, and James E. Hagerty of the Second and James A. Dacy of the Fourth were indorsed for the House of Delegates. The meeting was largely attended by business men.

The citizens of College and Bryan Hills will hold a meeting at Prior's Hall this evening under the auspices of the Bryan and College Hills Improvement Association. The candidates for House of Delegates will be discussed and one of them will be indorsed.

REAL ESTATE INTERESTS.

Workmen Removing the Old Shaw Mansion.

This morning contractors having in charge the taking down and rebuilding of the old Shaw mansion at the southwest corner of Seventh and Locust streets commenced work. The house will not be wrecked as other old structures usually are, but will be taken down piece by piece, and every stone and brick will be separated carefully and removed to Shaw's Botanical Garden, where the structure is to be rebuilt exactly after its original design, as provided by Mr. Shaw in his will, and in accordance with a recent decision of the court, which, in deciding a controversy over the peculiar wording of the will providing for the removal and rebuilding of the house, has decided that clause of the will admits of no other construction and that the trustees are bound to carry out its precise terms.

It is a tedious job to take down so large a house and remove it in accordance with Mr. Shaw's desire. The work will take sixty days at least, and probably longer. The old site having been leased for ninety-nine years to the Mercantile Club, a modern eight to ten story structure is to be built in the place of it. However, plans for the new building have not been made yet. A proposition inviting the competition of local architects for the job has been made by the club, but it is said that the terms proposed do not meet their views. For that reason nothing has been done toward making the design.

OAK HILL AND ROSE HILL.

The Hammett-Andrson-Wade Real Estate Co. opened a promising week's business with the sale of 384¼x125 feet of ground on the north side of Humphrey street, between Ben and Oak Hill avenues, at $12 a foot, from W. P. Croswhite to Chas. Jehle, who is going to improve the locality with two-story dwellings. There is very little of this low-pric desirable Oak Hill property left in first hands, several thousand feet of it having been sold by the firm since last summer. A lot of 50x125 feet, on the west line of Florence avenue, between Wells and Ridge avenues in Rose Hill place, was sold for $700 from Thos. T. Ruby to Frank M. Seckinger.

WILL NOT LEAVE ST. LOUIS.

It is now definitely determined that the St. Louis Stamping Co. will not move its extensive plant, about to be rebuilt, from the State of Missouri nor even beyond the confines of the city of St. Louis. There has been a good deal said about the probability of the works being moved away and that a force of at least 1,500 employes would thereby be compelled to leave St. Louis. There is no fear that this population or the enterprise will be lost to the city now. The new works will be erected where the company originally desired to put them, on Second and Destrehan streets in the territory where the Council has vacated the streets and alleys desired for that especial purpose. More than that, the stamping company to-day took out permits for the erection of their new buildings, which will cost not less than $100,000 when completed. Mr. Niedringhaus, a member of the company, said this morning that the plant, when fully ready for operation as designed, would cost all of $500,000. The first buildings to be erected will be a boiler-house, a gas-house, two tin houses, an annealing house and a warehouse. These are the structures that will form the nucleus for an enterprise which in all probability will be employing 3,000 hands within two years.

JAY GOULD IN THE CITY.

THE GREAT RAILROAD MAGNATE ARRIVES THIS MORNING.

A Conference With S. H. H. Clark and Traffic Manager Leeds—Troubles in Reference to the Sugar Tariff—The Union Depot—Mr. Gould's Plans.

This morning the private car containing the Gould party arrived in Union Depot, and the party, consisting of Jay Gould, George Gould and wife, Howard Gould and Dr. Jno. P. Munn, were driven at once to the Southern, where a suite of rooms had been engaged. Contrary to his usual custom, Mr. Gould, after a brief stay at the hotel, proceeded at once to the offices of the Wabash, where he was in conference for some time with S. H. H. Clark. He then returned to the hotel, where he breakfasted in company with his family. After breakfast a number of railroad friends called upon him, and a consultation was held. Later Mr. Gould, accompanied by George Gould, proceeded to the Wabash offices, where he was closeted with the heads of departments for some time. In answer to a question put by a representative of the POST-DISPATCH Mr. Gould said: "I am on my regular inspection tour, and will take a look at the lines in the Southwestern system. I may remain in this city until to-morrow evening and while here will confer with the railroad officials in reference to various matters connected with the roads."

Mr. Gould declined to say anything in reference to the charges made by Chicago lines in regard to the sugar tariff of the Missouri Pacific, which road secured much more than the share that the Chicago lines believed was its due. It is regarded as highly probable that this question will be thoroughly discussed by Mr. Gould and his subordinates, as at the Chicago meeting, to be held on April 14, the charges of violating agreements will be preferred against the Missouri Pacific. While in the city Mr. Gould will inspect the plans for the new Union Depot and take a trip over the Oak Hill line.

THE SUGAR TARIFF.

Mr. Gould spent a long time in conference with Freight Traffic Manager Leeds, who is responsible for the large amount of sugar shipped over the Missouri Pacific, and against whom the ire of the Chicago lines is particularly directed. What took place at this conference could not be learned, but the general opinion among Missouri Pacific officials is that Mr. Leeds' course has met with the entire approval of Mr. Gould, and that he will be sustained at the Chicago meeting. The presence of Mr. Gould in the city at this time is not regarded by the railroad officials as significant of any particular changes. He regularly makes a spring inspection of the Southwestern lines, usually reaching St. Louis about the middle of March. This year his trip was taken nearly a month later.

THE UNION DEPOT.

It is now expected that he will leave via the Iron Mountain on Wednesday night, but this plan may be changed and the Union Pacific system may be first inspected. Mr. Gould manifested particular interest in the plans for the new Union Depot, and during the afternoon drove out to the proposed location and made a careful inspection of the property. He will probably take a trip over the Oak Hill line to-morrow.

A LUCKY PLOWMAN.

Gold Coins Amounting to $3,500 Turned Up in Tennessee.

MILAN, Tenn., April 6.—On Saturday, while plowing his farm near Troy, Obion County, Bill Harris uncovered a box containing nearly $3,500 in gold coins. It is believed to have been buried years ago by an old blacksmith named Blank, who once owned the farm. Blank lived there during the war and hoarded up every cent he made. When he died it was expected that several thousand dollars' worth of money and valuables would be found, but not enough was found to even pay for his burial. It has always been believed that he had buried his money and there have been several "digging parties" organized to dig to dig the old man's treasure from its hiding place, but without success. Bill Harris is at last the lucky finder.

Tourists,

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c and $1 bottles by al leading druggists.

Pittsburg Oil Exchange.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 6.—At a meeting of the Pittsburg Oil Exchange to-day it was decided to formally withdraw from the conference of oil exchanges and deal in oil without conference restrictions. The conference included New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Oil City, Bradford and Titusville. The action to-day is regarded by many as the first step toward dissolution.

DECISIONS RENDERED.

OPINIONS OF JUDGES VALLIANT AND FISHER IN IMPORTANT SUITS.

The Fifth Trial of the Suit of Link Against Harrington—Habeas Corpus Case—Applicants for Admission to the Bar Examined—Lots of Litigantion.

Judge Valliant handed down quite a batch decisions from the bench this morning. In the case of Link vs. Harrington he rendered a decision for plaintiff for possession of property and 1 cent damages. This is an old case that has been tried now five times and decided four time in favor of plaintiff. The Schnaider Brewery Association has had possession of the property, the southeast corner of Seventh and Olive streets, since the suit was first filed, and under the decision of the court may retain possession of it, and the stock of liquors and fixtures formerly held by Mr. Alexe, the proprietor of the saloon, when the suit was brought.

Among the other decisions rendered by Judge Valliant were:

Murrien vs. Crawford; motion to set aside non-suit overruled.

Isaacs vs. Bohn-Verdin Lumber Co.; motion for new trial overruled.

Sexton vs. Seelye et al.; motion to strike out parts of amended answer of Chouteau sustained.

McHose & Lyon Co. vs. Municipal Electric Lighting Co.; motion in arrest of judgment overruled; motion for new trial sustained; judgment set aside; cause reinstated.

Rice vs. Taussig; motion for new trial overruled.

Ernst vs. Ernst; motion for new trial overruled.

Cutler vs. Zollinger; motion to set aside judgment and for rehearing overruled.

Stewart vs. Herbert; motion for new trial overruled.

Wat D. Sheriff vs. Percy Stone et al.; motion for new trial sustained and judgment set aside.

Hoff vs. Union Depot Railway Co.; motion for new trial overruled.

Wm. F. Lambe vs. Samuel F. Scott et al; judgment for defendants.

The last mentioned suit was for $100 for plumbing work. It was an appeal case and the defendants won in both courts.

The Municipal Electric Lighting & Power Co. are given a new trial. The last jury gave a verdict against them for $29,835.

Percy Stone also gets a new trial in the appeal case from Justice Ryan's court. He lost the suit in both courts, the judgment against him being $100.

JUDGE FISHER'S DECISIONS.

Judge Fisher also rendered a number of decisions this morning. Among them were the following:

Geo. S. Drake et al. vs. Wm. F. Wernse; motion for new trial overruled.

Jas. E. Hereford, administrator, vs. Eliza E. Finlay; judgment for defendant.

F. N. Earl vs. Patrick D. Sage; judgment for defendant.

Want to Practice Law.

The State Circuit Court met in general term at 10:40 o'clock this morning with a full bench, Judge Withrow presiding. Applications for admission to the bar were called forward and the names of the following gentlemen were read by the clerk: Andrew F. Brown, F. W. Lehmann, Geralt Gibson, Edmond L. Powers, Abram Humphries; H. H. Timken, and Wm. G. Schofield. Messrs. Brown, Lehman and Humphries were not present, but Mr. Brown had been in the court-room a few minutes before and stated that he would not be ready for examination this term. The other applicants, Messrs. Gibson, Powers, Timken and Schofield, were present and were examined by Judges Klein, Valliant and Fisher. Before being examined on their knowledge of the law they were questioned as to their respective ages, where they had studied, how long and what books they had read, and whether they intended to practice in St. Louis or not. Mr. Gibson is a son of Hon. Charles Gibson of this city and said that he had been reading under his brothers nearly three years, and his examination showed that he had made good use of his time. Mr. Powers is a graduate of the Ohio Wesleyan University, and is now in Seneca Taylor's office. Mr. Timken is a graduate of Hastings College, San Francisco, and Mr. Schofield acquired his knowledge of the law uuder John H. Overall, in whose office he has been employed since he was 11 years old. All four of the candidates said that they inteded to locate and practice law in St. Louis.

Habeas Corpus Case.

A writ of habeas corpus was issued by Judge Withrow this morning and made returnable next Wednesday morning, 10 o'clock, for the body of Lumonia Spencer, an 18-months-old child, who is now said to be in the custody of its maternal grandmother, Mrs. Hannah Huston, on Spring and Easton avenues. The mother is dead and the father, Pleasant Spencer, is a cripple, and has been supported and lives with the petitioner, Daniel Sneed, the latter claims, for some thirty years. Mr. Sneed wants the child and says that the little girl's grandmother is not a fit person to have charge of her.

No Jurisdiction.

In the Probate Court this morning Judge Woerner decided that he had no jurisdiction in the case of Margaret Morrison, against the estate of her husband, Johnston Morrison, and dismissed the case. Mrs. Morrison is executrix of the estate and the claim is for damages upon a warranty in a deed by the husband to his wife.

$5,000 for a Thumb.

Paul Bauholzer, a minor, brought suit by his father, Paul Bauholzer, Sr., against the Standard Stamping Co. this morning for $5,000 damages for the loss of a thumb while working in defendant's factory, on the 10th of last month.

Cut Off With a Dollar.

Two wills were filed for probate this morning. Wm. Orme cuts his daughter, Mrs. Fannie Bottoms, off with $1, willing all of his estate to his son, Thomas B. Orme. The will was made Oct. 15, 1890. ON 'CHANGE.

Grain and Flour.

Wheat—Weather conditions in this country and Europe and the cable advices were considered as favoring the bears this morning and, with domestic markets all declining, there was a quick tumble in price here. The weather throughout the West and Northwest was not altogether what could be asked for and the season was still backward, but that it was no worse and that warmer and fair weather was predicted was enough to start the crowd to selling. Only Liverpool showed any weakness—⅛d lower for spot and ⅛d for futures—but that, with the spring-like weather abroad, was considered enough of a depressing influence in itself. India's shipments were 140,000 bu smaller than the week before, but receipts in this country held up remarkably well, reaching over 63,000 bu in this market alone, 324 cars at Minneapolis and Duluth, while seaboard clearances were larger—28,500 pkgs flour and 110,000 bu wheat. All the crop reports from winter wheat sections, whether State bulletins or private advices, were most satisfactory, showing the plant to be in the finest possible condition for the season of the year. Later cables were 1@3 farthings lower in Liverpool, and London reported cargoes 9d off for prompt shipments and 1½d lower for two months off. Some export business in New York was given out, but bear steam was turned on good and hard and the selling fever raged furiously. The reaction in corn, a Paris cable 30c higher and Berlin 3½ marks up stopped the decline and heavy selling and put the price up stiffly. July and Aug. closing ⅝c below Saturday, but May ⅜c higher.

July opened at 96⅛c and sold to 96⅛c to 96⅜c to 95½c to 95⅜c to 95¼c to 96½c to 96¼@⅜c to 96⅝c and closed at 96⅜c. May opened at $1.03⅜ and sold to $1.02⅞ to $1.03⅞ and at close $1.04⅜ bid. Aug. opened at 94½c and sold to 94⅛c to 94½c to 93½c to 94⅞c and at close 94⅜c bid.

SPOT GRADES—The depression in futures extended to the cash market and lowered the price, besides making business dull. Current offerings were very small and holders of No. 2 red (little else to be had) asked the May price, at which several lots were taken by local millers. Sales: No. 2 red—10,000 bu this side at $1.02⅞, 2 cars in St. L. at $1.03, 5,000 bu regular May price. No. 2 Pacific Coast—3 cars this side at 99c. No. 2 hard winter—1 car this side at 97c. No. 3 red offered regular at $1 and in C. at $1.01, with 99c bid for former.

Late Saturday 50,000 bu No. 2 hard winter was sold for export.

SAMPLES—The offerings were very small for a Monday, but the market was a full cent lower. Buyers showed no urgency to buy at the decline, yet offerings were about all cleaned up. Sales: At store—1,000 bu at $1.04½. East track—1 car No. 2 at $1.05; 9 cars No. 2 to arrive at $1.03. Sacks—25 damaged and musty at 92c, 256 at $1.02, 145 at 1.03, 211 at $1.04, 1,446 at $1.04½.

Corn—The bear wave that swept over wheat carried corn down with it and the market was painfully weak for the first two hours. There was no increase to receipts, which, in fact, were very small, and current supplies even smaller, but advices were of an increased country movement, and the fine weather favoring that there was considerable selling, with not much of a demand. When cash displayed its strength in the noon call and the demand that paid 1½c premium for No. 2 over May was seen, the sellers at once grew cautious, and some demand springing up, sent the price higher, May closing ⅛c above Saturday, but July ½c lower than then.

May opened at 65⅛c and sold to 64c to 65½c to 65⅛c to 65½c at close. July opened at 62⅜c and sold to 60⅝c to 62½c to 62⅛c and at close 62¼c bid.

Spot grades were strong, especially considering the weakness and depression in futures. Offerings were nearly all from the stock in store, and about all the No. 2 was taken by the South and the East at 1½c over May price, leaving only a few cars on hand. Sales: No. 2—10,000 bu this side at 65½c, 15,000 bu this side, 1 car in U., 5 in Cdlt and 8 in St. L. at 66c. 5,000 bu this side at 66⅛c, 2 cars E. side at 66¼c, 15,000 bu this side at 66⅜c, 1 car at 66⅜c, 25,000 bu late Saturday at 1c over May. No. 2 white—1 car regular and 1 in St. L. at 70c; for more regular, 70¼c bid. No. 3—1 car in C. and 1 E. side at 65c, same bid for St. L. No. 3 white—68c bid E. side. No. 4 offered at 65c, no bid.

SAMPLES—Little offered and market strong. Sales: 1 car No. 2 white (shelled) trk this side at 72, 102 sks white (ear) at 73c. Sacked lots on orders 75@76c.

Oats—Speculation was very light. Trading was confined to a few sales of May at 54c and of July at 45½c, latter ⅝c below Saturday's close.

SPOT GRADES—None offered and the only bid was 54½c for regular No. 2.

Samples—Very little offering. The market was lower and quiet at a decline of ½c. Local dealers were the only buyers, and their wants were small. Sales: Special bin—2 cars No. 2 early at 55½c, 3 Northern mixed at 56½c, 2 No. 2 white at 57½c. Sacked lots on orders, 61@63c.

Rye—A couple of cars were offered to-day and 1 of No. 2 in St. L. sold at 88c. No. 3 in U. was held at 88c and 85c the best bid.

MILWAUKEE, April 6.—Barley—Cash, 72½c.

Provisions.

The market was unsettled, as Chicago was fluctuating rather widely and this upset local traders, who did not feel like operating until some steadiness was seen. Butter and Eggs.

Butter—Receipts, 4,308 lbs. The market showdd the increase in supply of the desirable grades, which naturally causes an easier feeling. Still, prices are not quotably lower. This week will no doubt show a large increase in receipts of summer creameries, and as these are the grades that go into general consumption, the prediction of the local dealers is that we will see lower prices. The general scarcity of the table grades for the past sixty to ninety days was the only cause for the continued high prices. The situation now, however, is growing interesting, and the anticipated larger receipts will be the cause for a lower range.

Commercial Notes.

New Orleans cleared for Liverpool 18,743 bu wheat and 65,076 bu corn.

Northwestern country elevator stocks decreased last week 35,000 bu.

Weather spring-like in France and the United Kingdom and warmer on the Continent.

Weather clear; 60 degs. at 12 o'clock. Local forecast: Fair and warmer.

J. M. Bauer, President of the Bauer Cooperage Co., Lawrenceburg, Ind., was on the floor to-day.

Bills of lading on corn are increasing and larger arrivals are expected in the near future.

According to official reports the autumn-sown crops in Roumania have weathered the winter in the best condition.

The report of the State Board of Agriculture indicates flattering prospects for Nebraska's crops. Farmers are already seeding in many portions of the State.

Besides the 55,000 bu No. 2 hard spring wheat, 50,000 bu No. 2 hard (Kansas) winter was worked here for export.

Henry Clews & Co., New York, wired that their cable denoted more favorable conditions for the crops in France.

New York reported ten loads No. 2 red wheat taken for export, mainly for Portugal, and two cargoes for August shipment.

An Omaha firm wires that they know of 500,000 bu of corn owned by half a dozen persons that will move to market this month if the weather is favorable.

The St. Louis Merchants' Exchange will be open to business to-morrow as usual, as will all other markets in this country except Chicago, which adjourns for their city elections.

San Francisco wired that they have cables confirming serious damage to French and other continental crops, and higher bids for wheat extending to as far as September.

Baldwin & Farnum, Chicago, wired J. C. MacGinnitie: "We have cable from Berlin saying Germany has decided to withdraw the embargo on American meats."

Indian shipments of wheat last week, 100,000 bu to United Kingdom, 160,000 bu to continent, a total of 260,000 bu, against 400,000 bu the week before and 340,000 bu for corresponding week last year.

Since Jan. 1, 176 steamers and thirty sailors with full cargoes of wheat passed through the Bosphorus for Europe, against 170 steamers and thirty-six sailors in the corresponding time last year.

The shipments from the port of San Francisco for the week March 26 were 446,645 bu wheat, 36,781 bbls flour. France has been a free buyer of California wheat during the present season, over 4,566,666 bu being cleared up to the 16th of March inclusive.

Late accounts from Odessa say the market is dull, owing to the opening of navigation on the Dnieper, whence large supplies of grain are expected. At Sevastopol freights are very dull, a French steamer, for eight days having sought in vain for a cargo, had to leave empty.

There has been a noticeable falling off in farmers' deliveries at a number of principal country markets, of Manitoba, which would indicate that the wheat is pretty well out of first hands, though the breaking up of the roads might have helped to reduce the deliveries. Then farmers will let up on deliveries until after seeding to some extent, though the high prices now offering would naturally have the effect of causing them to market very close now.

Recent mail advices say the weather in Italy has been rainy and the agricultural conditions for the present appear promising. In Belgium the autumn crops have been seriously damaged, more than was at first supposed, and many fields are being re-seeded. In the Spanish peninsula where the cereal crops were considered as almost lost, they have been much improved by the rains, and the welcome moisture has extended over the hitherto drought-stricken regions.

Market closes 3 p. m.

Cattle—There was a strong active demand to-day, but receipts were light so that there was not enough by two-thirds for the wants of the trade. Prices were as strong as last week, with the inclination to higher. Common cattle sold steady, everything being cleaned up early. Cows and calves remain in much the same condition that they have been in for a month. Common stuff is slow of sale at easy prices, while it takes good stuff to bring satisfactory prices. Sales to-day:

No.	Description.	Av.	Price.
12	Kansas yearlings	475	$2 70
14	native bulls	1,122	2 62½

11	Indian steers	1,286	5 00
14	Southwest cows	850	2 60
243	retail from $2.75 to $5.

Hogs—The market was active and steady to-day at the prevailing prices of Saturday's close. The receipts were fair, everything in the pens sold early, and the market closed about steady. Good to choice hogs sold at $4.95 to $5.15; common packing, $4.50@4.75; roughs, culls and pigs, $4@4.25. The representative sales to-day were:

Sheep—The run of sheep continues too light for the demands of the trade, even the local feature of the market. This has been the condition of the market for a long time despite the fact that the Union Stock Yards offers the most excellent inducements in as good prices for as poor sheep as any stock center in the country. It is not to be presumed that the receipts have been of no importance of late, for they have, yet the steady growth in the trade going on here has been even more vigorous than the trade expected, and for that reason more sheep are demanded than in previous years. But new shippers, hitherto crowding the Chicago pens, are finding in the Union Stock Yards an advantage and are drifting this way. The extreme range on common to choice muttons range from $4.50 up to $6.

Wall Street.

NEW YORK, April 6, 11 a. m.—The stock market opened this morning with a burst of activity in which the Grangers, Chicago Gas and Sugar were the leading features, although there was also more animation in the general list and a larger number of stocks were traded in than usual of late. The market was decidedly strong in the early dealings, and after opening advances of from ⅛ to ½ per cent fractional gains were scored over the entire list while Chicago Gas, Burlington and Rock Island were specially prominent in the upward movement; rising 1⅝ per cent and ¾ respectively. Cordage and sugar also rose ¾ each, but both retired later and the upward movement meeting with stubborn resistance the entire list reacted partially in the later portion of the hour. The leading stocks maintained a firm front, however, and despite the realizing sales the concessions from the best prices were insignificant. An active business was transacted throughout the hour and at 11 o'clock the market was still fairly active and firm at close to the best prices reached.

Noon—Money is easy at 2½@3 per cent. The reaction in the stock market was followed after 11 o'clock by a renewal of the buying movement and further activity in the leaders was helped out by movements in C. C. C. & St. L., Lackawanna, L. & N. and some others, while prices were brought up to something better than had been attained during the first hour. There were, however, two weak spots in the list, Illinois Central dropping away from 96¼ to 95 and Great Northern preferred a fraction, while Canadian Southern, after a fractional loss, advanced 1 per cent. The market continued active and maintained the best prices, being at noon strong at the highest figure of the morning.

3 p. m.—Money closed easy at 3@4 per cent. Bar silver 98. The dealings in the stock market after 12 o'clock were accompanied by the usual diminution in the volume in business, but there was still an active trading maintained until well after 1 p. m. All the leading shares at the same time continued strong and reached fractionally higher prices than during the forenoon.

CALCUTTA TO BOSTON.

The Trafalgar's Long Voyage—Description of the Courser.

BOSTON, Mass., April 6.—The ship Trafalgar has at last reached her voyage of 11,000 miles and beaten her opponent, the Ardencraig, after a long and tedious race of 116 days from Calcutta to Boston. The race was one of the kind so popular years ago, when full-rigged ships struggled over this course of 11,000 miles, facing all sorts of weather and bringing into play every trick known in the art of seamanship. The Trafalgar's tonnage is 1,696 tons and the Ardencraig 2,092. Both are laden with jute, the Trafalgar having 15,000 bales. The race over the Indian Ocean was the best time made. Thirty-five days from Calcutta the Trafalgar, which left three days after the Ardencraig, spoke and passed her. They parted and have not seen each other since. Unless the Ardencraig reaches here by Wednesday she will be beaten.

WAS NOT IN CONDITION.

A CLAIM THAT M'CARTHY DID NOT PROPERLY TRAIN.

Pat Farrell and Jim Daly to Fight To-Night—The McLean-Stansbury Boat Race—Base Ball, Turf Gossip and Sporting News Generally.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The fighter who loses and has no excuse to offer for his defeat is almost an anomaly in prize ring records. Cal McCarthy is such a loser, and his acknowledgement that Dixon beat him because he was the better man is noteworthy. When he and Dixon met in the Troy Cribb Club ring Dixon really was the better man, yet there is a reason for that condition apart from what was shown in the result. It was the common report for a week or so before the fight that McCarthy was not training properly. He had always before the reputation of being a singularly conscientious and earnest trainer, and most people declared the rumors to be groundless. But they turned out to be true. The boy was confident that he could "lick the coon" without severe preparation. To borrow some expressive slang, says the Sun of this morning in telling the story, he had the "big head." He would not do his work and the result was that he got well licked by the coon. This is no news to those who were closest to the lad, but perhaps some would say that McCarthy's friends are now trying to palliate the effect of his thrashing by saying he did not train properly.

That the boy's neglect of his duty was known several days before March 31 is proven by the action of Joe Early, the best friend Cal ever had. Early, after telling Cal that he was not treating his backers fairly, finally decided to have nothing more to do with him, and notified his friends of his purpose. If further evidence were needed it would be but necessary to cite the action of Dick Roche, John Kelly, Jack Adler and other friends of Early after they were informed that their colleague refused to have any further association with a contestant who would not do his duty. These men had all been McCarthyites and were taking five to four, or better, until they got word from Early of what Cal was doing. Then they turned around and hedged. John Kelly is known to have come out more than whole, but Jack Adler got left. He had put out all the money he had, $1,200 to win $1,650, and when he received Early's note he had nothing in his pocket with which to get square. The others were a little more lucky. The facts directly connected with McCarthy's training show that after the articles were signed, McCarthy acting on his own responsibility, signed them on that day, after having been advised by Early to do nothing until he saw him, something he had never thought of doing before. Early asked Pat Cahill, the amateur middle-weight champion, to allow Cal to run with him and give any points that he could. Cahill, who is very friendly with Early, said that he would assist his former club mate all he could in a reasonable way. So Cal began to trot out to Newark and elsewhere with Pat. Early, however did not ask Pat's help until he offered to send McCarthy away from Jersey City to do his training. Cahill kept his word and helped the boy all he could. A week ago last Tuesday in a run of a dozen miles Cahill noticed that Cal was very slow in his movements and short in his wind. Pat told him point blank that he was not doing his duty. McCarthy denied that he was drinking, but afterwards Cahill learned that Cal had drunk four glasses of lager beer and a bottle of Bass' ale within an hour in Jersey City. That night, Early having been told of it, naturally suspecting that it was not all that Cal had done in the wrong direction, asked Cahill if he would spar fifteen fairly fast rounds with the boy to see how he stood it. Early figured that fifteen rounds such as Cahill, a 150-pound man, would give him would be about equal to forty-five with Dixon, and Early was confident that Dixon would stay a long time. Cahill agreed, but McCarthy refused. He said that it was entirely unnecessary to spar fifteen rounds, as ten would be sufficient.

"All right," said Early, "ten then."

The turn up started in the gymnasium of the Scottish American Athletic Club, and the writer held the watch. For three rounds McCarthy boxed in his usual style, so far as Cahill would let him, for Pat kept him moving all the time. But Cahill did not hit him harder than a tap at any time. He simply led past McCarthy's head and gave Cal all his weight to counter in. Yet after they had been at it one minute of the fourth round, McCarthy, who was breathing like a bellows and perspiring like a sponge just taken out of water, put down his hands and ran half way the length of the gymnasium to escape further exercise. He did the same thing after he had come up again for a nominal fifth round and in the sixth stopped altogether and went to the dressing-room, positively refusing to spar any more. He was completely blown, and it was only one week before the match.

FARRELL AND DALY FIGHT TO-NIGHT.

Jim Daly of Philadelphia, who successfully stood up six rounds before Joe McAuliffe, the California giant, and Pat Farrell, the Pittsburg policeman, are to fight to-night within one hundred miles of New York for a purse of $1,000. Both men are just too heavy to be classed as middle-weights, and there will probably not be much difference between their pull on the scales. Jack McAuliffe, the light-weight champion, and Dominick McCaffrey will be back of Daly, while Farrell will be seconded by Jack Fogarty, the Pennsylvania middle-weight, and Ed Smith, the Denver heavy-weight, who was defeated by Geo. Godfrey. Daly has the advantage of Farrell in height and is the favorite in the betting, but, nevertheless, Farrell should win. It has been a long time since Farrell has been seen in public, and he was a mere novice in the ring when he met McCaffrey a few years ago, but if he has made any improvement at all he will certainly win, despite the fact that the knowing ones are betting the money the other way.

BASE BALL.

The new or ammended charge of conspiracy against Mark Baldwin, the Pittsburg pitcher, in which he is accused of conspiring with the Pittsburg Management and inducing Pitcher Charles King to jump his St. Louis contract, was set for hearing in the Court of Criminal Correction this morning. Thomas P. Harvey appeared as a new special counsel for the State and wanted the case laid over until 2 o'clock this afternoon so that he could consult with Attorney McEntire, who procured the information. Messrs. Joy and Jones insisted that the State should either go to trial or that the defendant should be discharged, as there had been a distinct understanding that the case should be tried to-day. Prosecuting Attorney Dierkes and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Estep also said that the case should be tried as per agreement. Judge Claiborne said it would do no harm to lay it over until this afternoon, as it would not keep the defendant in the city any longer. Accordingly the case was laid over until 2 p. m.

OPENING CHAMPIONSHIP GAME.

The opening of the American Association championship season at Sportsman's Park next Wednesday promises to eclipse in every way any previous opening in St. Louis. The character of the attraction itself is far superior to any yet presented in the inauguration of the championship season locally. Mike Kelly's Cincinnatis, who will meet Capt. Comiskey's Browns at Sportsman's Park Wednesday afternoon, are a first-class team, composed of players who are known all over America. That the Cincinnatis will give the Browns a tight pull for supremacy goes without saying. Both Kelly and Comiskey are acknowledged leaders and pitted against each other they will make things hum. The men will enter into the spirit of the occasion heartily, and the people will, no doubt, witness contests marked by strongly marked rivalry. Mike Kelly's team will leave Troy, N. Y., to-night and come direct to St. Louis via the Big Four route. They will arrive here in all probability to-morrow night and will go to the Lindell Hotel.

Wednesday, at 1:30 o'clock, there will be a parade in which the Cincinnatis and Browns will take part. A band of music will lead the procession through the principal thoroughfares. There will be a concert before the game at Sportsman's Park, and the championship season of 1891, with the weather Gods smiling, will open up in a blaze of glory. The batteries next Wednesday will probably be Ed Crane and Mike Kelly and Stivetts and Boyle. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock.

BASE BALL BRIEFS.

The Browns defeated Columbus at Sportsman's Park yesterday in their second exhibition game by a score of 10 to 6.

It looks like old times to see Comiskey lining out two-baggers to the right-center fence.

THE TURF.

The price paid by Mr. Easton for the English horse Simon Magus, 300 guineas, is illustrative of the fact that blood must sell, as the son of Galopin and Wheel of Fortune has been one of the most conspicuous failures as a race horse. His is a pedigree which must be termed the bluest in the stud-book. It is, however, a noticeable fact with some sires that they appear to keep the general excellence of their stock to the fore as a rule, and get all their weakness into one colt every now and then. Caller On in her day was a veritable wonder. Up to the time of the St. Leger she had not really emerged from mediocrity, but after she had caused the star of Col. Townley's Kettledrum to set, she emerged from obscurity, and was wont to travel, as Fisherman also did, north, south, east and west of Her Majesty's Plates, which she picked up, as it were, here, there and everywhere. Kettledrum, who was a good horse, was not very successful at the stud, yet to him is due Bendigo, possibly, next to Isonomy, the best handicap horse of modern times.

SAN FRANCISCO MEETING.

The entries for the spring meeting of the Pacific Coast Blood-horse Association number 628—a great improvement on former years. The principal stables represented are those of Thomas H. Williams, Theodore Winters, Cy Mulkey, the Ashes, L. U. Shippe, Palo Alto, Billy Boots, L. J. Rose, Matt Storn, Ira L. Ramsdell, the Applebys and others of the old stand-by class. Among the entries are the famous mare Geraldine, Sinfax, Racine, Rinfax, and that mysterious sister of El Rio Rey, Yo Tampien, besides numbers of horses who by their blood-lines should do well. All told this is the greatest meeting San Francisco ever had, and it is probable that it will prove to be the most successful financially, too. Certainly the new president has infused vigorous blood into the association, ably seconded in his work by T. H. Williams, Moses Gunst and other members of an energetic turn of mind.

HORSE CHAT.

Next year John A. Morris will have a number of English bred 2-year-olds of the most fashionable breeding to contest for American honors for horses of that age. They will arrive here in July, and so will be well acclimated by the following season. They are by such crack sires as Galopin, Springfield and Charibert, out of American mares sent to England bp Mr. Morris.

Fred Gebhard is extending his racing interests this year and has engaged Frank McCabe, formerly with the Dwyers, as his trainer. His string will embrace Volunteer II., aged; Amulet, the speedy 3-year-old filly purchased at the Scott sale; La Biche, black filly, 2 years, by Rosicrusian, out of an imported mare, by The Duke; Shohola, chestnut gelding, 3 years, by Rutherford, out of Leveret, Lever; Blizsard, 2 years, by Eole, out of Belphœbe, by King Alfonzo, and Courant d'Air, 2 years, by Eole, out of Mineral, by Spendthrift.

A match for $1,000 a side has been agreed upon between the well-known Bourbon County turfites, the Talbot brothers, and Mr. A. W. Turner, the former to start Brutus, by Billet, and the latter names London Smoke, by imp. London. The match will be run at the Lexington spring meeting, and the distance one and a sixteenth miles. Bowen & Armstrong have also matched their 2-year-old, Hindoogain, by Hindoo, against McCarney & Ellis' 2-year-old Lady Claxton, for $5,000 a side. A forfeit of $1,000 has already been deposited in the latter match.

THE OAR.

The next sculling race for the world's championship will take place April 28, between McLean and Stansbury. It interests American oarsmen, because an American will probably be the first opponent of the winner. The race will probably cause more money to change hands in the colonies than any race has for years. McLean will go into the race heavily backed, since he has defeated both Stansbury and Kemp.

Teemer, the American, who is said to be in fine form and willing to back himself with considerable money, will be prepared to challenge the winner, as will also O'Connor, the defeated Canadian, who thinks he would have stood a better show with Stansbury had they raced on American waters. Jake Gaudaur is another sculler who would like to have a go at the Australians in American waters. It is not by any means certain, however, that the winner of the race in Australia will accept.
